GOVERNOR WILL ADDRESS LUTHER LEAGUE GROUP

Governor George M. Leader will address the more than 600 youth and leaders of the Lutheran churches of the Central Pennsylvania Synod at the annual convention of the synodical Lutheran League Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Christ Chapel, Gettysburg College.

Governor Leader, a member of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, York, Dr. Chester S. Simonton, pastor, is a former Lutheran League. The Leader family is regular in attendance at Messiah Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, Dr. William Van H. Davies, pastor.

President of the group representing youth organizations of the 628 Lutheran congregations of central Pennsylvania is Jerry R. Smith, Dallastown. Chairman of the program committee for the July 22-25 gathering is John R. Cochran, Altoona.

Convention Theme
"Who Do You Say That I Am?" is the convention theme and will be the subject of three special addresses by the Rev. Raymond H. Tiemeyer, administrative assistant to Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The convention opened with registration this afternoon. Business sessions, workshops in the several areas of Lutheran League activity, discussion groups, devotional periods, and recreation are parts of the four-day program.

Speaker at the first formal session this evening will be the Rev. Charles A. Chamberlain, Altoona. The liturgist will be the Rev. Paul E. Bosch, Williamsport. Other churchmen who will be heard during the convention are the Rev. F. Leslie Conrad, Philadelphia, executive secretary of the Lutheran League of America; the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, Harrisburg, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, and the Rev. Edwirth E. Korte, chaplain of Gettysburg College.

REV. C. TILBERG IS DIRECTOR OF SYNOD GROUP

Announcement was made Monday evening of the appointment of the Rev. Cedric W. Tilberg, as director of Synodical Social Missions of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the ULCA. The Rev. Mr. Tilberg will assume his duties on September 1, leaving the pastorate of First Lutheran Church, Altoona. He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Tilberg, W. Lincoln Ave., and a graduate of Gettysburg College and Seminary.

The announcement was made by the retiring director, Rev. George E. Whitestone, to the board of directors of the LIM of the West Penn Conference at their regular monthly session held at the Trindle Springs Lutheran Church, Mechanicsburg R. D. Rev. Mr. Whitestone also introduced Sister Betty Amstutz, the new synodical secretary of Inner Missions.

Committees to serve the LIM for the current fiscal year were named by the president, Rev. E. P. Truchsess, who presided at the meeting. They are: Finance committee chairman, Lloyd M. Walker, New Cumberland; Rev. Reide Bingham, Lemasters; Miss Ada Phillips, Greencastle; Dr. Norman D. Keefe, Mechanicsburg, and Miss Grace M. Smith, Thomasville; property chairman, Rev. Walter Guss, Newville; Maurice Feiser, East Berlin; W. Lester Davis, Bendersville; Mrs. Lester Kutz, Carlisle, and Leroy Finkey, Newville; manual chairman, John C. Pretz, Mechanicsburg; Roger Steck, Carlisle; Rev. Herman Stumpfle, Gettysburg; John Diehl, Chambersburg, and Paul Shockey, Greencastle; personnel chairman, John C. Pretz, Mechanicsburg; Ralph Drexler, Newburg; Roger Steck, Carlisle; Harvey Sheaffer, Carlisle, and Benjamin Davis, St. Thomas; services chairman, Rev. G. Martin Ruoss, Mechanicsburg; Mrs. (Continued On Page 2)

1st Crash In 28 Years; He's Fined

William Thomas Bailey, 59, Washington, D. C., who was involved in an accident at noon Monday on the Emmitsburg Rd., near the Lee-Meade Inn, paid a $10 fine and costs Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John R. Whitman, Cumberland Twp., on a charge of making an improper turn. State police who investigated the accident filed the charge.

Bailey, who said it was his first accident in 28 years of driving, was enroute to New York to visit his parents. He was accompanied by an ill daughter who is to see specialists in New York. The Bailey car was damaged to the extent of about $600, police estimated.

COMMITTEES ARE SELECTED FOR LIONS CLUB

Committee assignments for the year were made by President John C. Stahle at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening at the Shetter House. At the same session the clubmen voted to sponsor one bus in a fleet of about 10 to be used to take young baseball players in the county to the state police rodeo at Hershey August 2.

Volunteers as blood donors were listed for Mrs. LeRoy E. Smith, who has submitted to surgery in a Baltimore hospital. Her husband is a member of the Lions Club.

Sixty-three members attended the meeting. There was a meeting of the program committee after the general club session.

List Of Chairmen
Committee chairmanships were assigned as follows: Program, Edward J. Nowicki Jr.; Finance, Richard A. Polkenroth; Attendance, Douglas W. Smith; Sight Conservation, Russell Schwartz; Civic Improvement, Kenneth W. Johns; United Nations, Rev. Charles E. Held; Chaplains, Rev. Mr. Held; Membership, George W. Miller; Stewards, Donald White; Literature, Leo McDermitt; Education, Eugene R. Hartman; Constitution and bylaws, Ralph Bailey.

Convention, Gordon Webster; Remembrance, Fred Troxell; Fund Raising, David C. Blosser; Special Activities, Sterling Musselman; Greeters, Radford H. Lippy; Agriculture, Clarence J. Waybright; Pianist, Harold Ecker; Visitation, Jennings B. Collins; Publicity, Hugh C. McElhenry; Boys' and Girls' Work, Stanley Rogers; Music, David Blosser, and Safety, Donald G. Oyler.

Every member of the club was assigned to at least one committee position.

The Lions will not meet next Monday.

TWO JAILED IN BURGLARY

Joseph Goodman and William McLean, both of Baltimore, the remaining two suspects in the theft of junk from the John Sell junk yard, Littlestown, pleaded guilty to larceny charges and were jailed for next term of court in default of $2,000 bail each before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore. State Trooper James Treas brought the pair before Basehore Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock after returning them from Baltimore.

The third suspect, James G. Browder, who also allegedly was with Goodman and McLean and owned the truck found in the junk yard by Sell in the early morning of June 24, pleaded not guilty to the larceny charge July 14 before Justice Basehore. Browder at that time admitted it was his truck at the scene but said it had been stolen in Baltimore a few days before the burglary. He was also jailed in default of $2,000 after Basehore found a prima facie case.

Sell said he tried to apprehend the men by going to the junk yard early in the morning. He disconnected some motor wires of the thieves' truck thinking they would be unable to escape, but the trio fled on foot in the direction of Baltimore.

All three are negroes.

Two Men Charged With Nonsupport

Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder had the following two desertion and nonsupport charges filed before him this morning. Both men were arrested by Constable Fred Swisher.

John E. Slaybaugh, Aspers R. 1, furnished $500 bail for court on a desertion and nonsupport charge filed by his wife, Joanne Smith, and Teddy R. Miner, Gettysburg R. 2, was charged by his wife Emma A. Miner Orrtanna R. 1, with desertion and nonsupport and was jailed in default of $500 bail. Slaybaugh and Miner will appear in August court.

COL. E. R. JONES TELLS ROTARY OF VIET NAM

The people of South Viet Nam are appreciative of American aid and the army being developed by South Viet Nam "would give an excellent account of itself. I am confident that South Viet Nam will not be pushed around by any neighbor unless it is a very big neighbor," Lt. Col. Eben R. Jones told the local Rotary club at its meeting Monday evening at the YWCA.

Colonel Jones, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College for several years, spent the last year in Viet Nam as a member of the Military Assistance Advisory Group, returning to the U. S. two weeks ago.

He is in Gettysburg making arrangements for his family, who stayed here during his tour of duty in the Far East, to join him in his new assignment with the headquarters of the armed forces in California.

Cites Economic Problem
Viet Nam "is very similar to Korea, with the industrial north in the hands of the Communists and the agricultural south part of the free world," Colonel Jones said.

President Ngo Dinh Diem "is a very affable and charming person," Colonel Jones said, "but he has many problems, one of which is true of all I have seen in the Far East. The problem is economic. Over there you seem to be very rich or extremely poor, there seems to be no middle ground."

A U. N. team of usually two Canadian officers, two Indian officers and two Polish officers patrols the peace treaty by which north and south Viet Nam were separated in 1954 and the French, who had held the country as French Indo-China, moved out.

Referendum Delayed
"While neither South Viet Nam nor the United States was a signatory of the treaty, its provisions have been lived up to with the exception of plans for a general referendum to have been held in 1956. Since the Communist north outnumbered the South by about 2-1," (Continued On Page 3)

PRICE SERVICES THIS EVENING

Funeral services for Wilford Edwin Price, 67, Fairfield R. 2, who died suddenly Monday morning while working in the fields at his farm, will be held at 7 o'clock this evening from the Allison Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. Herbert N. Brownlee officiating.

Friends may call at the funeral home in Emmitsburg from 5 o'clock this evening until the time of the funeral. Following the services tonight the body will be removed to Tennessee for interment in the Arnold Cemetery at Shouns, Tenn.

Father Of Five
Surviving are his wife, the former Ada Denney, and five children, Mrs. Ellen Howard, of Tennessee; Mrs. Hester Stapleton, Fairfield R. 2; Roby B. Price, Gettysburg; Cecil Price, Fairfield, and Eula Mae Price, at home.

Also surviving are five grandchildren and six brothers and sisters: Dana Price, Aberdeen, Md.; Alva, Verner and Melvin Price, all of Tennessee; Mrs. Anna Stout and Mrs. Arlene Doeell, also of Tennessee.

A son of the late Timothy and Margaret (Orsini) Price, he was a member of the Baptist Church.

Falls From Tree, Breaks Right Wrist

Angel Rivera, 21, Aspers R. 1, was treated at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of his right wrist sustained Monday in a fall from a cherry tree.

Mrs. Andrew Henderson, 52, Spring Grove R. 2, was treated for a laceration of the head suffered Monday when a ladder slipped and struck her as she was picking cherries.

Albert E. Dove, 44, R. 3, an employee of the Inductive Equipment, received treatment for a laceration of both index fingers.

PLAN "ROCK AND ROLL"
The Southern Adams County 4-H Agriculture Club and the Littlestown 4-H Home Economics Club are sponsoring a rock and roll dance at the farm of Emory Gitt, Littlestown R. 2, August 1, from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. Donations will be accepted at the door and all proceeds will be divided between the 4-H clubs. Refreshments will be served.

E. R. STAVELY, 90, EXPIRES TODAY IN LITTLESTOWN

Ephraim R. Stavely, 90, Crouse Park, Littlestown, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning at his home after a brief illness. He was a cigarmaker and had worked at that trade for 75 years until his retirement about three years ago.

Mr. Stavely was the last charter member of the Ancient Order of the Knights of the Mystic Chain of Littlestown and belonged to the POS of A and the Odd Fellows of Littlestown. He was a member of the Improved Order of Red Men of Hanover and of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of McSherrystown. He had been a lifelong member of the Alpha Fire Company of Littlestown.

The deceased was a lifelong member of St. John's Lutheran Church and Sunday School of Littlestown. He was a son of the late Martin L. and Martha (Johns) Stavely. His wife, the former Lizzie Harner, died in March, 1941.

Surviving are a son, Lloyd L. Stavely, Crouse Park, a Littlestown High School teacher; two granddaughters, a great-grandson and a sister, Mrs. Alice Bollinger, Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Little Funeral Home in Littlestown with his pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, officiating. Interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

Iraqi Coup Was Army Action, Not Uprising Of The People

By STAN CARTER
BAHGDAD (AP) — It took a group of army officers just two hours to overthrow the monarchy and establish a republic in Iraq. The army dissidents appear to have been in complete control of the country from the start on July 14. There may be some hidden opposition to the new regime, but it is not apparent to a visit just arrived.

This was not an uprising by the people, but they seem pleased by the result.

Want Western Acceptance
Although the officers of the new regime and the average Iraqi don't like the U. S. intervention in Lebanon and the British landing in Jordan, the chief concern appears to be for their own affairs coupled with a desire to be accepted by the West as the legitimate government of this oil-rich Middle East country.

There is great adulation of the United Arab Republic's President Nasser, but there does not seem to be any great desire to join the U. A. R.

Surround Palace
At 5 a.m. on July 14, one company of infantry, supported by a tank and several antitank guns mounted on jeeps, surrounded the royal palace where 23-year-old King Faisal and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah were preparing to

Lincoln Highway Work Begins Aug. 1

The All-State Hanover Company is expected to begin work on the resurfacing of 2.16 miles of the Lincoln Highway west of here about August 1. Superintendent of Highways Clyde Garber said today. The construction firm is working now on National Park avenue contracts and upon completion of that work will start the Route 30 work.

The section to be surfaced extends eastward from McKnightstown about halfway to Gettysburg. It is estimated the job will require about 10 working days.

A three-inch surface will be applied to a width of 20 feet.

Traffic flow will be maintained while the work is underway, Mr. Garber said.

C-D COURSE IN EXPLOSIVES IS SET FOR FALL

Adams County's Civil Defense organization Monday night made preliminary plans for a 15-hour course on explosive ordnance reconnaissance, discussed the powers of auxiliary police and local Civil Defense directors and made a plea to township and borough governments in the county to complete the selection of the local CD directors.

Meeting at the engine house on E. Middle St., representatives of various fire companies in the county and other Civil Defense directors set up plans for a course on explosive ordnance to be taught by officials of the 56th Ordnance Detachment, U. S. Army, Indian-town Gap, starting in September. The group set a limit of two men from each fire company, a principal and an alternate, to attend the course and asked the Adams County Fire Chiefs' Association to set up machinery for the selection of the men to take the course.

Urge Local Directors
County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver said the course will cover identification of explosives, protective measures, study of fuses, etc. Weaver said the course will provide trained men for possible war-connected activities but "more important will give each fire company two men trained to handle any explosives that might be found in connection with a fire."

An urgent plea was made to all borough councils and township boards of supervisors in the county to select nominees for the post of local Civil Defense director. Only about half the boroughs and about one-fourth of the townships have named CD directors so far, Weaver said. The township or borough officials select a man as director and forward his name to Weaver to be sent to the state for appointment by the governor.

Need for local CD directors is great, Weaver said, "for if we ever have an emergency they will have a tremendous job to do." Weaver said that among the functions of the local CD directors is to serve "as a sort of rationing board in event of emergency." In time of disaster, from war causes, flood, or other emergency where there is an obvious need for conservation of food, drugs, gasoline, etc., the local CD director is the only person authorized. Two Local Youths Cited At Drexel

Gene G. Hoak, Gettysburg R. 2, and Richard J. Hemler, Gettysburg R. 3, both students at the Drexel Institute of Technology, have been cited along with 1,010 other students at Drexel for outstanding scholarship, according to William E. Toombs, institute dean of men and chairman of the Scholarship committee.

Six hundred twenty-two students from the college of engineering, 297 from the business administration, and 93 from home economics were among this number. Three hundred forty of these students were appointed to the first honors list of their respective colleges.

Hoak is in the electrical engineering college and Hemler is in the chemical engineering college.

CHILD HURT BY CAR

Twelve-year-old Phyllis Bum-baugh, daughter of Charles Bum-baugh, Chambersburg R. 1, was treated in the emergency room of the Chambersburg Hospital at 5:05 p.m. Sunday for multiple abrasions and contusions of the right shoulder and both legs and for a mild brain concussion. Hospital attendants were told the child was injured when she was struck by a car operated by Earl Recard, Fairfield R. 1. Police were not called to investigate the accident, they reported.

Eisenhower Yields To Allies, Will Now Go Along On Summit Crisis Meeting Within U.N.

Russians Are Expected To Veto Jap Plan In East Crisis

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A Japanese compromise plan to get U.S. troops out of Lebanon neared a vote in the U. N. Security Council today with the Soviet Union still expected to veto the proposal.

Defeat of the Japanese plan may result in an emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly.

Diplomatic efforts to settle the latest Middle East crisis held most attention as the tense area generally remained outwardly quiet. The chief military development Monday was the assignment of U. S. Marines to Lebanese army antismoke patrols in Beirut.

Bolster U. N. Observers
The vaguely worded Japanese resolution seeking to resolve the crisis was interpreted as calling for strengthening the U. N. observation group in Lebanon. The Council established the group June 11 to insure that there was no infiltration of arms and men from the United Arab Republic to Lebanese rebels.

The resolution would have Hamarskjold arrange unspecified additional measures to do that job and to "insure the territorial integrity and political independence of Lebanon, so as to make possible the withdrawal of the United States forces." (Continued On Page 2)

HERE AND THERE

The Lincoln National Life
Foundation, of Port Wayne, Ind., last February 12, selected 55 of the best editorials on Lincoln. After a careful study 15 were selected and submitted to a committee of eight Lincoln authorities with the request that one be selected. On the basis of a point system the eight authorities came up with a tie of two for first.

One, "Lincoln, Pivot of History," written by Bruce Blossard and published by the Newspaper Enterprises Association, follows.

It was Nov. 19, 1863. Nearly five months before, the great battle had been fought, the battle that was to prove the midpoint and turning point of the bloodiest war the young nation had ever known.

A national cemetery was to be dedicated. A board of commissioners, formed of the governors of the northern states whose troops had been involved, had invited the man considered to be the greatest living American orator to deliver the main address. Already the ceremonies had been postponed a month to allow the speaker time to prepare his speech.

A formal invitation was sent to the President of the United States and, as an afterthought, he was asked to make a few appropriate remarks following (Continued On Page 2)

Held In Default Of $1,500 Bail

Unable to post $1,500 bond, Harold Dean Welsh, 24, Gettysburg, is being held in the Franklin County jail in Chambersburg on three charges filed against him on Saturday by Mercersburg police.

Welsh was charged before Mrs. Clayton Martin, Mercersburg justice of the police with drunken driving, driving an automobile while his license was suspended, and resisting arrest. Mrs. Martin set bond in the amount of $500 on each of the three charges.

The Adams County man was arrested on Friday night.

Gettysburg police disclosed over the weekend they would file a detainer in Chambersburg for custody of Welsh. Charges of burglary and larceny were filed over the weekend before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg, accusing Welsh of forcibly entering the office of Roy E. Goldsmith, Gettysburg, roofing contractor, on Friday evening and taking keys to a 1957 ranch wagon. He was operating the ranch wagon at the time of his arrest in Mercersburg.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yielded to British insistence today and agreed to go along with a summit meeting of the United Nations Security Council if that is generally desired by the Western Powers and Russia.

A White House announcement to this effect shortly after noon today apparently ended a dispute with Britain over whether the Western Big Three should move openly and directly toward a U. N. summit session or merely indicate indirectly in notes to Moscow that such a meeting might be possible.

About an hour earlier, British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd had told the House of Commons in London that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would attend if a special meeting of the Security Council was arranged.

Discuss Crisis
The purpose of the meeting, Lloyd said, would be to discuss the Middle East crisis but it would not act on any resolution unless there was general agreement that such action should be taken.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said at the White House: "A United Nations Security Council meeting of the character suggested by Foreign Minister Lloyd is clearly with the contemplation of the (U. N.) Charter."

"If such a meeting were generally desired, the United States would join in following this orderly procedure."

Meanwhile, it was learned, Secretary of State Dulles had revised a proposed U. S. note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to bring it more into line with Britain's insistence that the Western Powers should open the way clearly and unmistakably for heads of government to attend an extraordinary session of the Security Council.

Khrushchev proposed on Saturday a five-power emergency summit conference at Geneva composed of government chiefs of the three Western nations, plus himself and Prime Minister Nehru of India. He also asked the attendance of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

France Favors Meeting
France generally favored conditional acceptance of the idea of a summit conference.

Eisenhower and Dulles, who were cold to the idea of a hastily arranged meeting at the summit, favored simply pointing out to Khrushchev that he has full opportunity under the U. N. Charter to get the Security Council to enlarge its consideration of the Middle East problem if he wants to do so.

Britain favored a declaration of more positive readiness to attend such a meeting, and Macmillan and Lloyd faced the necessity of having a policy statement to the House of Commons today.

This public announcement of British policy evidently forced decisions in Washington as well as London.

Diplomats said that the tensions created by the Middle East crisis, worldwide fears of an outbreak of war and Khrushchev's call for a crash conference had unquestionably combined to revive prospects for an overall summit conference later this year.

Apparently with this in mind, the State Department in a public statement prodded Khrushchev for a reply to a letter from President Eisenhower July 1 urging him to accept procedures for working out a summit meeting agenda.

NEW MIDDLE EAST FEATURE

Today (on page 7) The Gettysburg Times presents seven fine sketches by artist Howard Brodie depicting a group of Middle East Arab officers entrusted with protecting Jordan, now occupied by the British as the West tries desperately to salvage this most strategic area for the free world.

Drawn before the explosive activities of the past week, Brodie's portraits point up the tension that has mounted steadily since the Suez incident in 1956.

His comments underline the unrest and insecurity that mark the Arab countries and could result in World War III. For the Middle East is an armed camp, distrustful of strangers, wary of spies and infiltrators who might at any moment mount a bloody coup of the sort that swept King Faisal from his Iraqi throne.

This graphic picture story is interesting and informative and highly recommended reading. For this is the fiery, unpredictable, excitable people whom Nasser is whipping up to a violent hatred of the West.

COURT HOUSE REPAIRS WILL AID OFFICIALS

Old timers in the election business are going to have a familiar feeling when they report at the court house after counting the ballots in November.

Years ago the Adams County treasurer had his office where the Agricultural Extension Association is now located in the court house. Later the office was moved to its present location in the same rooms as those occupied by the county commissioners.

When the treasurer was located in what is now the county agent's office the sign over the door of the vault said "Treasurer." At the other end of the vault the sign over the door said "Commissioners."

Vault Was Closed
When the treasurer was moved, the vault used by the treasurer was closed at the end that had once been the treasurer's entrance.

Over the past several weeks the wooden framework of the door to the vault that had once been the treasurer's entrance was removed, shavings were changed in the large vault, paint was applied where necessary, records were rearranged and a new stand-up desk made by T. U. Geiman was installed in the vault.

The work on renovation of the vault was being completed today.

An Election Aid
Purpose of the change—in addition to making records more easily accessible and provide more working space—will be most evident on election nights.

Crosby N. Hartzell, chief clerk of the commissioners, explained that henceforth the election boards coming into the court house will go into the extension office and through the vault entrance there into the vault where their records can be checked, the election results properly stored, and the treasurer will be on hand to pay them immediately.

■ That way the commissioners' office area can remain in use by the crowds who generally gather election nights to find out how the voting is progressing.

Difficulty in Past
For years the election boards have had to push their way through crowds of people to get the returns to the election clerks who in turn worked with "15 or 20 people breathing down their necks" and then the election boards had to push their way through the crowd again to get to the treasurer and receive their pay.

The new system will remove the confusion, Hartzell said today, because no one will be in the vault or extension office other than the election officials themselves. He added that the new system will permit more careful check of the returns and better and more systematic work all around.

For the real old timers the change will bring everything around full circle. They used to go into what is now the extension office as part of the regular routine to meet the treasurer and clerks.

Palbearers were Paul Pitzer, Orville McBeth, Lloyd Cooley, Ralph Stoner, Emory Tuckey and Mervin McCauslin.

$400 Damage As Cars Crash Near Fairfield

No one was injured and damage totaled $400 when two cars collided one mile east of Fairfield on the Gettysburg Rd. at 4:45 o'clock Monday afternoon.

State police said Oscar W. Wilkerson, 40, Claysville, Pa., was driving west at about 20 miles an hour looking at the scenery when Mrs. Anna W. Neely, 65, Fairfield, also driving west, came upon the slow moving car. The Neely vehicle struck the rear of the Wilkerson car, police said, causing about $200 damage to each vehicle.

Wilkerson said later he was looking for the Eisenhower farm.

Russians Are

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev said he cannot support this but declined to tell reporters whether he would vote against it — killing the resolution with the 85th Soviet veto — or abstain and let it pass.

Sobolev said the resolution that gave tacit approval to the presence of U. S. troops in Lebanon. It would keep U. N. observers there alongside the Americans, which "we cannot accept," he said, and would mean a U. N. military force "in a veiled form."

Japanese Delegate Koto Matsudaira denied his plan aimed to create a U. N. military force. He said it was designed to beef up the observer group, which now numbers about 135 men, "and we are sure this will meet adequately the needs of the situation."

Lodge Backs Resolution
U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge supported the resolution, saying it "could lead to conditions which would make possible the withdrawal of U. S. forces with Lebanon." Britain, France, Panama and Sweden also said they would vote for it.

In Washington, however, Lebanese Foreign Minister Charles Malik called the resolution unacceptable.

If it died, the 11-nation Council then could turn to U. S. and Soviet resolutions for an emergency session of the 81-nation General Assembly to deal with the Middle East crisis. But diplomatic sources said Council President Alfonso Araujo of Colombia might propose to adjourn debate until the question of a summit conference was settled and until after the Lebanese Parliament's election of a new president, scheduled for Thursday.

Some observers hope the election will end the revolt against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun, whose term expires Sept. 23.

The Big Three draft reply to Khrushchev's summit proposal rejects Soviet charges of U. S.-British aggression in the Middle East. It says the U. N. charter makes the Security Council, not a summit conference, the international body to maintain peace and security.

Khrushchev should direct his efforts to the Council and let it know if he feels it is missing any bets, the proposed reply says. Washington officials said this could open the way for Khrushchev to show up at U. N. headquarters, forcing President Eisenhower to consider going also.

More this circuit after 6a.m.

TWO MEN ARE CHARGED WITH $62,500 FRAUD

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The FBI today charged young Pittsburgh financier Earle Belle and his associate, Mitchell D. Ostwind, with fraudulently converting $62,500.

E. Hugo Winterrowd, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said the money involved was in the form of five checks, each amounting to $12,500 and drawn on the Manufacturers Bank of Edgewater, N. J.

Belle and Ostwind now are in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

In a complaint filed before a U. S. Commissioner Alexander McNaugher, the FBI said that Belle and Ostwind conspired together with other unknown persons to violate the U. S. Code.

Winterrowd said the U. S. Department of Justice will handle proceedings for the return of Belle and Ostwind to the United States.

Cite $40,000 Check
In another complaint the FBI charged that Belle transported from New York to Salisbury, Pa., a check for $40,000 drawn on the Chase National Bank in New York and payable to the Carl W. Schutter Corp., which check was known by Belle to have been converted and taken by fraud.

The five checks involving the $62,500 charge were payable to the Steiner Mfg. Co., the Aero-Cal Industries, Century Controls, Troop Water Heater Co., and the Carl W. Schutter Corp.

The FBI said the investigation developed about last April 28 after Belle, 26, deposited the five checks for $62,500 to the account of Cornucopia Gold Mines, Inc., at the Peoples First National Bank & Trust Co. in Pittsburgh.

The five checks, the FBI said, were transported from Edgewater, N. J., to Pittsburgh by Belle and Ostwind, both knowing these checks were converted and obtained by fraud.

COUPLE ASKS FOR PROTECTION

WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP)—Police protection has been requested by the wife of the manager of a drive-in theater which was closed Sunday night when it attempted to show a racially controversial movie.

Sheriff Lester Holley said Mrs. Max Singleton requested the protection for herself and her husband.

Holley said he had promised to have officers check the couple's house although he does not feel the Singletons are in any danger.

Shoot At Youth
The request for protection came after two teen-agers reported they were shot at Monday night as they drove away from the drive-in after an errand. The theater was not in operation.

Investigation failed to sustain the report, Holley said.

The demonstrators Sunday night prevented the complete showing of the movie by blocking the drive-in's gates with automobiles and cutting the power line to the theater.

The movie, "Island in the Sun," depicts a romantic interest between a white woman and a Negro man.

ized to decide who shall have the supplies and in what quantities. In addition, as Assistant Civil Defense Director Roger Myers pointed out at the meeting: "So far we have the fire companies handling most of Civil Defense in the county. The fire companies certainly have an important role to play in fighting fire, rescue, ambulance duty, auxiliary police etc. But the firemen cannot do everything. The local CD directors should set up their own organization working with the fire companies. There should be groups in each borough and township to handle problems of housing refugees, feeding people in event of emergency, etc. Such emergencies do not always come from wars. A hurricane or tornado can create as much of an emergency and be as much of a task for Civil Defense as war. In fact those have been the biggest tests of CD so far."

Harry Fasick, York Springs CD director, was asked to outline the setup he has established in his community, which has been described as one of the best in the area.

Charles W. Culp Jr., past president of the Adams County Fire Police Association, and Glenn Raffensperger, current president of the fire police, outlined laws under which the fire police, auxiliary police of the county, operate, and held there is a need for new legislation clarifying the duties of the volunteer officers. At present when engaged in police duty in connection with fires with their own fire companies, they operate under one law. At other times in connection with other activities they act under other laws, he said.

Marine Killed; Did Not Answer Sentry

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A U. S. Marine was killed before dawn today when he failed to answer a challenge from a sentry at a Marine outpost near the airport.

An officer said the Marine was returning from a mission. "He was challenged three times by the sentry," the officer said. "When he failed to answer, the sentry fired and hit him in the stomach."

The wounded man was taken to an American warship by helicopter but died before an operation could be performed.

The name of the dead Marine was withheld until his family was notified.

He had been laying trip flares in front of a Marine outpost near the airport. Trip flares exploded, illuminating a wide area.

"Our job as U. S. officers in Viet Nam was to help in the training of the South Viet Nam army, and we had about one officer to a regiment. We found the Viet Nam people speak a number of dialects, and many of them speak French fluently. Increasing numbers speak English and each of us found ourselves not only providing military training but English teachers as well."

Must Learn Patience
"Americans dealing with the peoples of the Far East must learn one thing—patience. They are wonderful people but their viewpoint is not ours. We want everything done yesterday. They have a longer concept of time."

President David Blocher presided at the meeting with 51 present. Richard Dreas, Easton, spoke briefly. Robert Codori led group singing accompanied by Dr. Kenneth Smoke.

President Blocher announced that next Monday members of the Little League team will be with the club for its dinner meeting at the YWCA and a speaker will be present from the Totem Pole Theater.

Eisenhower Will Meet Managua Politicians

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—President Eisenhower's brother planned meetings with leaders of all Nicaraguan political factions today after sidestepping criticism of U. S. support for Latin American dictators.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower listened calmly Monday to opposition leaders who call the Somoza family's long rule in Nicaragua a dictatorship.

He firmly denied a charge that the United States was taking advantage of Latin American countries for its own economic benefit.

It came during an outburst of anti-American feeling at a meeting with university graduates after his arrival in Nicaragua on a Central American fact finding tour.

Dr. Juan Zelaya, leader of a dissident offshoot from the Liberal party of the late President Anastasio Somoza, accused Washington of keeping dictators in power with gifts of arms and of economically exploiting Latin-American nations.

Rebel Marksman Hits 16 Planes
ABOARD USS SARATOGA, in the Mediterranean (AP)—Almost all the small arms fire directed at Navy planes flying over Lebanon came from one rebel position south of Tripoli manned by at least one good sharpshooter.

Rear Adm. George W. Anderson told newsmen that 16 planes from his Task Force 60 have been hit in the past seven days. The bullets caused only superficial damage.

"That rebel Annie Oakley is almost as good with small arms as an American Marine," he added.

Pilots now are going over the area at higher altitudes to avoid annoyance of sniping. They are not firing back since "that would not make sense in this situation," Anderson said.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO

General Local Jottings: Ira Plank, pitcher for the Meridan, Conn., baseball team, was painfully hurt in a game with Hartford at Hanover park last Wednesday. In endeavoring to stop a liner the ball hit his hand with such force that the skin and flesh were torn off between the third and fourth fingers so badly that the tendons were exposed. Mr. Plank will be out of the game for at least several weeks.

Indications point to a poor corn crop. The oats, which is being cut, is light, owing to the long drouth. W. G. Stoness, of Heidlersburg, has asked off ground for a dwelling house and planning mill which will be in Biglerville.

A new enterprise is being started under the firm name of the Sea Lark Boat Co. in East Berlin. The firm has ordered a new steel gasoline launch from Michigan which will carry a dozen or more youngsters passengers. The boat is expected to arrive this week and will be used for taking pleasure trips on the Conewago and a small fare will be charged. Straban Grange will have an all-day picnic August 15th in the church grove at Hunterstown. The public is cordially invited to attend.

John W. Funt, of Route 1, Biglerville, has a cherry tree from which he picked thirteen bushels of cherries and realized $34 from them.

The Moxie Wagon with a great large bottle attracted much attention during encampment. Amos Coulson & Son have enlarged their greenhouse on Buford Ave. and will engage in business more extensively.

Welcome National Guards: The National Guards of Pennsylvania are with us again and we bid them a hearty welcome. They are a fine looking body of men and are acquiring themselves with their customary efficiency. These encampments, besides affording opportunity for valued practice in the art of war, serve to call the renewed attention of the people to how well the state is equipped in citizen soldiers.

The soldiers, both Regulars and Militiamen, are delighted with Gettysburg and so they should be. The camp site is an ideal one, the best that could be obtained and the historic grounds occupied should be made a permanent site.

The Hamiltonham Twp. School Board met at Fairfield in the public school building on July 13th and elected the following teachers: Fairfield Station, Wilson Hummelbaugh; Union, W. F. Watson; Tract, Edna Miller; Ottomano, Alice Fitz; West Fairfield, Hull Rock; Fountain Dale, Lola Cook; Weeping Willow, Harry Pecker; Furnace, Carrie Curren; Mt. Hope, Ira C. Lady; Pine Hill, Lou Elia Sharetts.

The school board of Franklin township met on Tuesday and elected the following Teachers: Cashtown, Alma Henry; Sheelys, Raymond Dearford; Flohrs, Alice Miller; Scotts, Clem A. Hartman; Newmans, Edwin Hartman; Paradise, Nellie Stanner; Van Dyke, Cecil Stover; Poplar Springs, Alice Roth; Binghamman, Charles Carbaugh; Seven Stars, Edith Mickle; In the Valley, Mr. Strausbaugh, Miss Alverta Kimple and Anna Hartman.

More Teachers Elected: The School Directors of Germany Twp. elected the following teachers on Saturday: Oak Grove, C. F. Palmer; Mt. Vernon, Mervin Wintrod; Mt. Pleasant, Edna Mehring, and Slate Ridge, Samuel Brumgard.

N.G.P. Encampment: The historic Battlefield from the Peach Orchard on the South to the edge of town on the North and from the Trostle Farm buildings on the East to the Confederate avenue on the West, covering an area of about 500 acres, has been converted into a tented city and the National Guardsmen of the Great Keystone state are again comfortably located on the best adapted camp-

Today's Talk

TAKE THE HAPPINESS HIGHWAY

Dr. Snyder, President Eisenhower's doctor, in a recent interview, gave 10 points for living a long, healthy life, and he placed number one in these words: "Be happy in what you are doing." It is impossible to do important work if you are unhappy. Happiness in itself is a stimulant. Always take the Happiness Highway. It's the safest and pleasantest.

How many are there who can say that they are perfectly happy in their work? Most of us, however, can say that happiness is what inspires us on, and gives to us the incentive to divide our happiness with others. That is what happiness is for!

One of the surest ways to be happy yourself is to make someone spreads from there. You are on the Happiness Highway! The Happiness Highway is broad and smooth. You can see far ahead on it. It is the safest of all highways. And you meet such delightful people.

If you seek happiness for yourself alone, you are almost sure to miss it, but if it is for someone else you are almost sure not to miss it! Take the Happiness Highway. It is the scenic route. A route of beauty and changing landscape.

You lose your burdens, worries and disappointments when you take the Happiness Highway. As Dr. Snyder has said, let us be happy in whatever it is in which we are engaged. People will see us at our work and be inspired by our energy and cheerfulness. It's easy to pick out the happy people in the world. They dominate life! They radiate a spirit that people can't help but catch or absorb.

The free mind and willing spirit can do wonders in keeping happiness alive in one's heart. Think of the problems that would be solved if people just remained happy!

Just Folks

THOUGHTS OF A LONELY FATHER

By my reading chair tonight,
And an army needs commanding;
It is lined up for a fight.

There's a dolly soundly sleeping
On the couch where it was left,
But a lonely watch I'm keeping,
For the old home seems bereft.

It is so still and quiet
And so empty now in here;
Gone is all their merry riot
And their ringing shouts of cheer.

Even the Teddy bear sits solemn
In a grave and stolid way,
Just as though he'd like to call 'em,
Call 'em back again to play.

There are times when I have scolded
And have checked them, but tonight
Were these arms about their necks folded
I should count their noise delight.

Oh, I'd like once more to kiss them,
And to romp with them in play,
Bless the children! How we miss them
Through the weeks they are away.

POLIO GROUP EXPANDS INTO FIVE FIELDS

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today it is expanding its program to attack major health problems of the nation.

Until now, the foundation has been concerned with polio. Paralytic polio has been virtually licked by the Salk vaccine.

Basel O'Connor, foundation president, said research initially will be in five areas: polio, virus research, disorders of the nervous system, arthritis and birth defects.

Face Completion
The foundation's expansion into arthritis research indicates it may vie for funds with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. The latter last week rejected a proposed merger by the two groups.

O'Connor said no attempt will be made to duplicate the work of other voluntary agencies. He added, however, that as scientific breakthroughs occur they will be pursued wherever they lead, with the general objective of improvement of man's health.

The arthritis group voiced regret that the polio foundation had not "seen fit to join forces" in

BRAVES, CUBS REVERSED BY CARDS, REDLEGS

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
What makes that National League race so tough? A playing pattern that gives you a three-game sweep from a club one week then hands you a loss to the same bunch a week later.

Ask the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

The Braves, with a chance to regain first place from idle San Francisco, blew 3-0 and 4-3 leads Monday night and were beaten 5-4 in 14 innings by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Curt Flood's sixth homer gave it to the Cards, who lost three in a row to the Braves at St. Louis a week ago.

Cubs Reversed
And the Cubs, who swept Cincinnati in three last week, were belted 9-4 by the Redlegs Monday night in the only other game scheduled.

The Braves remain a full game behind the Giants, who open a road trip tonight at Philadelphia. The Cubs now are just a game ahead of the fourth-place Cardinals, 5½ games behind the Giants.

The Reds jumped from eighth to fifth.

1st Win For Wright
Lew Burdette, whose error gave the Cardinals a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning, was handed a 4-3 lead on Joe Adcock's 18th homer in the Milwaukee seventh. But Wally Moon sent it into extra innings with a ninth-inning homer, his second off Burdette, now 9-8.

The winner was reliever Bill Wright, who blanked the Braves on four hits over the last 6 2-3 innings for his first National League victory.

9th For Neeman
The Redlegs breezed against the Cubs, although Harvey Haddix had his troubles in the ninth before gaining a 6-3 record. Cal Neeman, who belted a two-run double earlier, hit his ninth homer, and Tony Taylor doubled with one out, but Haddix wrapped it up after Taylor was nailed at the plate trying to score on a single.

Bob Thurman hit a three-run homer for the Reds in the seventh, but they had it barged in a four-run fourth. Rookie Marcelino Solis lost his first major league decision as George Crowe lined a bases-loaded double for two runs. Two more scored on a force-out and Roy McMillan's single.

YACHT RACE IN LAKE BECALMED

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—It was anybody's guess today on the winner of the almost becalmed Chicago - to - Mackinac yacht race.

Going into the fourth day, the Lake Michigan fleet only inched northward. Overnight the breeze had gone down to almost nothing with yachts strung out for 60 miles.

Ordinarily, the 51st annual 333-mile classic would have finished Monday. But with lack of wind it already has become one of the slowest of all.

Monday night the yawl Dyna of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and the cutter Freebooter of Chicago took the lead away from the hawl Sabre of Sheboygan, Wis.

The Sabre fell back to a point 80 miles from the finish, or 30 miles behind Dyna and Freebooter.

WANER SEEKS JOB
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Paul Waner, who resigned July 13 as batting coach of the Milwaukee Braves, is trying to catch on with the St. Louis Cardinals in a similar capacity.

Waner, one of only eight players in baseball history to collect combating arthritis, but instead was entering the field on his own.

Can't Be Reconciled
The polio organization will be known henceforth as the National Foundation, O'Connor said.

He said the enlarged program is a natural outgrowth of work done in the course of finding a polio preventive and caring for polio victims.

When the breakdown of merger negotiations was announced last Wednesday, the arthritis foundation said basic differences in the organization and methods of operation of the two foundations apparently could not be reconciled.

3,000 or more base hits, was a visitor in the Cards' clubhouse Monday night after their game with the Braves.

DEFENSE FUND IS SLASHED BY HALF BILLION

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut more than half a billion dollars from Defense Department construction fund requests. It cited the new Air Force Academy as an outstanding example of "loose fiscal procedures."

It slashed $511,838,000 from the $1,730,658,000 requested by the administration for construction program at military bases in the United States and abroad.

The Air Force was given the biggest cut, 300 million dollars from the $1,001,500,000 it requested.

The Navy's bid for $368,253,000 was trimmed by $85,502,000, while the Army's request for $340,900,000 was pared by $126,336,000.

Other Slashes
Project after project, including such items as officers' swimming pools and elaborate housing accommodations, was cut out completely or sharply slashed as undesirable or "certainly not essential."

The committee was especially critical of policies and practices relating to construction of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Many buildings at the academy, the committee said, were increased in scope and cost without congressional approval until after binding contracts had been approved.

"A typical example of the lack of realistic planning" in connection with the academy, the committee said, was Air Force approval of floor-to-ceiling blackboards on all four walls of classrooms.

In an effort to curb future spending at the academy, the committee urged the House to clamp a ceiling of $139,797,000 on the total cost of the academy. It cut a million dollars from the $4,372,000 requested for the present year.

ACTRESS LEAVES TRUJILLO AGAIN

ENSENADA, Mexico (AP)—For the second time in less than a week actress Lita Milan has ridden home from a sailing party with Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr.

The Brooklyn-born starlet abandoned ship here Monday night and was driven 220 miles to Los Angeles by one of the Dominican general's aides in a rented car.

Her departure brought to a sudden halt rumors that the playboy of the Caribbean was planning to marry her.

The rumors swept this seaside resort, eventually reaching Civil Judge Miguel Santos Torres, who sent word to the yacht that he was the man to see if anyone wanted to get married.

Apparently nobody did.

Torres said he was visited by someone from Trujillo's floating pleasure palace who told him that Miss Milan was leaving, adding: "The general has no intention of getting married."

Last week on a cruise out of Los Angeles Miss Milan got only as far as San Diego before disembarking and taking the overland route home.

After she had gone Monday night, Trujillo dined in a fashionable hotel with a pair of Latin lovelies.

"I am going to Acapulco as soon as the weather permits," he told friends. "That Los Angeles — I don't think I'll ever go there again."

He said he was not on the St. Louis payroll yet, but indicated that he would be soon.

UNORTHODOX ORIOLES OPEN TOUR OF WEST

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Okay, so Manager Paul Richards has some different ideas about baseball. But his Baltimore Orioles in third place in the American League Race? How unorthodox can you get?

Yet that's where the Birds were sitting as they opened a two-week tour of the West at Chicago. They're 14½ games behind the New York Yankees, but they're only 3½ shy of second-place Boston.

The Orioles moved to third by taking two of three from Cleveland last weekend while Detroit lost three of four at Boston and slipped to fourth.

8 Of Last 12
The Orioles have won 8 of 12 since the All-Star break in a jump from seventh to third.

Pitching has been the answer for the Birds, who have improved their standing each season since gaining the old St. Louis franchise in 1954. They were seventh in '54 (and again in '55, although they won three more games in their second season), sixth in '56 and fifth last year.

With the likes of Jack Harshman (late of the White Sox), Arnie Portocarrero (late of the A's) and Billy O'Dell and Milt Pappas, a couple of home grown kids, the Orioles are just one game under .500. The pitching staff has a record of 30 complete games, the same as the White Sox, and second only to the Yankees' 36.

Yankees At Detroit
The Yankees are at Detroit tonight, Boston is at Kansas City and Washington's at Cleveland for a two-night pair.

No games were scheduled in the AL Monday.

In the only two scheduled games in the National League, Milwaukee missed a chance to regain first place from idle San Francisco in a 14-inning, 5-4 defeat by St. Louis and Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs 9-4.

Marianna Boes, Broadway and TV actress, portrays one of the major roles in Terence Rattigan's Broadway play "Separate Tables" which opened Monday at the Totem Pole Playhouse. This will be Miss Boes' last appearance this season.

PRO GRIDDERS FACE SENATORS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pro football stars Billy Howton, Les Richter and Kyle Rote face a team of senators today in a match that promises to be no breather for the athletes.

They were called to testify before the Senate antitrust subcommittee on legislation proposing broad antitrust law exemptions for pro football, baseball, basketball and ice hockey.

Whether the players take the offense or defense depends on the inquisitive senators, who want to know about such things as the National Football League draft and contract option. The subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) is studying a House-passed bill to exempt the draft and other practices from antitrust legislation.

Howton, of Rice, is an All-pro end for the Green Bay Packers. Richter, of California, made the All-Pro second team last year as a linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams. Rote, ex-Southern Methodist back, is a end for the New York Giants.

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The Italian motorship Esperia arrived today with 421 refugees from Lebanon, most of them Americans. About half left the ship in Naples. The others will continue to Genoa.

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP)—Martin Sommer, the "Butcher of Buchenwald," has appealed his conviction by a West German court of wartime mass slayings in the Nazi concentration camp.

Sommer was given the maximum sentence of life imprisonment after his conviction July 3. The prosecutor's office said he has not yet submitted any legal arguments to support his appeal.

Local Little Leaguers Top Carlisle Squad 8-0; Meet Mt. Holly Springs Wednesday

Johnny Longanecker, Roger Giberson and Tommy Collins, plus the combined efforts of the other Gettysburg Little League All-Stars, put on one of the finest exhibitions of little league baseball as they walked away with an 8-0 win over the Carlisle Nationals in the first round of Area 4 tournament play on the Newville diamond, Monday afternoon.

Longanecker went the distance for Manager Noel Flynn's All-Stars shutting out his opponents with two hits. He faced only 20 batters, striking out nine and walking four to gain the victory. Roger Giberson, a tall, easy going shortstop, drilled a grand slam homerun off opposing hurler John Albright in the third, followed by Tommy Collins' four-bagger with one mate aboard in the fourth.

Outstanding fielding plays were made by Gene Schultz in the third when he grabbed a long fly ball against the left field wall off the bat of Gilbert Wymond. Dane Kennell came charging in for a short looper in the same inning to end a Carlisle threat. Bob Greiner, Rick Fisel and Dan King also supported the defensive outfit with spectacular stabs.

Kennell Scores First
Manager Flynn won the toss of the coin, giving the local squad home team advantages. Dane Kennell led off the bottom of the first with a walk and moved to second on Ed Tilberg's well-placed bunt. Collins then lashed a single to center where the centerfielder bobbled the ball allowing Kennell to tally with the first run.

In the third frame, with one out, Eddie Tilberg drilled a double down the right field line and went to third on a passed ball. Longanecker lashed a safety to right, scoring Tilberg, and moved to second on an outfield miscue. Rick Jones and Gene Schultz then drew walks to load the bases. Giberson stepped to the plate and uncorked the first pitch 195 feet over the right field wall for his grand slam homer.

Gettysburg added two more scores in the bottom of the fourth when Tilberg rapped a single over second and Tommy Collins belted a 1-2 pitch 180 feet over the left field fence for his first round tripper in tournament play.

Two Reach Third
Carlisle managed to get runners on first and third in the initial frame but Longanecker fanned the last batter to stop a short uprising. Carlisle didn't get a man around to third again until the sixth inning, when Albright singled, went to second on an outfield error and continued to third on a passed ball. The next three men popped to the pitcher, filed to right and grounded to the pitcher, respectively.

John Albright, Carlisle pitcher, first baseman, connected for the losers only two hits given up by Longanecker.

Manager Flynn and Coach Fred Baker have not indicated who will pitch Wednesday against Mt. Holly, but all indications point towards the Lions' ace hurler, Doug Appier.

Newville Wins
In the second game at Newville, Monday, the Newville All-Stars eliminated the Dillsburg All-Stars 5-2 behind the fine pitching of Bob Drawbaugh.

Batteries: Newville — Drawbaugh (W) and Eckman; Dillsburg — Halachar (L) and Spangler.

Tonight the Littlestown All-Stars will play the Carlisle American League All-Stars at 6 p.m.

This is to enable to All-Stars to get one day rest and a short practice between games.

7 CURTIS CUP TEAM MEMBERS IN FIRST ROUND
CHICAGO (AP)—All seven U.S. Curtis Cup team members on the scene qualified for the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament and today entered first the round of match play action.

The meet, over the rugged par 36-37-73 Oak Park Country Club course, serves as a stern tune-up for the Curtis Cup matches with Britain's best women amateurs in West Newton, Mass., Aug. 8-9.

Leading the U.S. squad members was 20-year-old Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., a senior history major at Stanford. She was the only one to tame Oak Park in Monday's qualifying, firing a 72 for medalist honors in a field of 170 hopefuls trying for 32 spots in the championship bracket.

7-Stroke Edge
The slim Miss Quast thus launched another attempt to duplicate her feat of 1956 when she was the tourney's medalist and went on to take the championship.

She had a seven-stroke edge in the trials. Her closest rivals were four 79 shooters: Sandy Spuzich and Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., of Indianapolis; Clifford Ann Creed, Opelousas, La., and Betty Kerby, Akron.

The other qualifying Curtis Cup players were defending champion Meriam Bailey, Northwestern University student from Palatine, Ill., with 83; Mrs. Ann Casey Johnson, Mason City, Iowa, 81; Barbara Ransom, Sacramento, Calif., 84; Barbara McIntire, Uplier, Fla., 80; Anne Richardson, Columbus, Ohio, 82; and Polly Riley, Fort Worth, 83.

The qualifying cut off was 85. By luck of the draw, none of the Curtis Cuppers will face each other in the first round of match play.

Gettysburg Softball Loop

The Elks clinched at least a tie for first place in the local softball league by outgunning Inland Container 13-9 Monday evening. One more victory in their four remaining games will give Joe Robinson's outfit the regular season championship.

Eleven runs in the first two innings got the Elks off to a flying start as they held onto their lead in a game marked by frequent miscues.

A three-run rally in the last of the final inning enabled the VFW to snatch a 6-5 decision from the W-L Warehouse in the first game of the evening.

The winning rally came via successive walks to Dorm, Decker and Fenzbaker, a fielder's choice and a single by Staub. As a result of the win, the VFW tied the Moose for second place.

Emmitsburg Snares Opening Little League Tourney Tilt; Play At Brunswick Tomorrow

Three spectacular clutch fielding plays, a twisting roller over first base and a belt over the center field fence sparked the Emmitsburg Little League all-stars to a 4-2 tourney win over Thurmont Monday evening in Thurmont.

Outfit 7 to 3, the Emmitsburg club made the money plays all evening and came up with the hits when needed. After a scoreless first inning, Manager Dick Harner's crew got two unearned runs in the second frame when DeWees and Freshman collided handling Messner's easy pop fly at third. Frushour, who struck out 12 batters, then walked Gene Eyer and Charley Bowers promptly sent a hard smash down the first base line that dug up chalk all the way and drove in two runs.

In the top of the third Ron Sweeney singled sharply to right and "Skip" Englar belted the first pitch over the fence in dead center field. Emmitsburg got no more hits, but the four-run edge was enough for victory.

Fine Fielding Plays
Thurmont picked up two runs in the bottom of the third as Bob Mort gave up his only walk to Royer and Frushour just reached the right field fence with a nomet run.

In the fourth with a runner on base, Royer sent a shot into left field that Gene Ling took at his shoe strings after a long run. As he swiped at the ball he tumbled and after the ball flew in the air caught it with his bare hand to end the inning. In the fifth with Frushour on second, Dave Messner took Porter's line shot to center on the first hop and threw Frushour out at the plate with a perfect strike that caught the runner two feet from home. Ronnie Sweeney, hardly as high as the fence, raced back for DeWees' long belt in the sixth and grabbed the ball with a great leap as it

$30,000 SOUGHT IN A SUIT FILED AGAINST BROKER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Mar-gate, N.J., woman is trying to recover $30,000 she claims was fraudulently taken from her by an investment broker who is wanted in two states on embezzlement charges.

Mrs. Miriam P. Myers filed suit yesterday in U.S. District Court to recover the money. It was one of two actions involving the Arthur L. Wright and Co., Inc., Philadelphia investment firm, which had employed Robert A. Kershaw, 39, Ocean City, N.J.

The other action was a statement by the Pennsylvania Securities Commission saying the Wright firm was partially responsible for losses of its customers who dealt with Kershaw.

Sought In 2 States
Kershaw, who has been missing a month, is being sought in Pennsylvania and New Jersey on charges he embezzled up to $300,000. Some 50 persons have charged him with misappropriating money they paid him for stocks they say they never received.

Mrs. Myers' suit charged the Wright firm and two of its officers with conspiring to cheat and defraud her. Named co-defendants were Arthur L. Wright, firm president, and Lloyd B. Brown, its treasurer and vice president.

Mrs. Myers alleged the defend-

To Probe Monopoly In Philly Linen Supply

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury has launched an investigation into reports of monopolistic practices in the thriving linen supply business in the Philadelphia area, southern New Jersey and Delaware.

Ten witnesses, none identified, were called to testify before the panel Monday. An investigator said the industry grosses 10 million dollars a year.

Donald G. Baithis, trial attorney for the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, said the Grand Jury would recess to study the testimony and for further investigation.

Officials said those being probed supply linen to practically every restaurant, bar, hairdresser and barber in the tri-state area.

ants refused frequent demands for an accounting of transactions involving her money; that the company knew of reported violations by Kershaw of Securities codes as early as 1954 but concealed them, and did not stop Kershaw from using customers' monies for his own speculative purposes.

The commission statement said a broker is required by law to alert the PSC to any suspected violation by its salesmen. It noted that if any licensed dealer failed to do so "he might be considered as an accessory and can be penalized in any matter as defined by the Pennsylvania Securities Act."

BOB CERV TO BE FETED AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bob Cerv has furnished the Kansas City Athletics with more runs than any other player this season. Tonight the fans are going to furnish his new home.

His Bob Cerv night at Municipal Stadium for the 32-year-old outfielder who ranks second among American League hitters despite a succession of injuries.

Former President and Mrs. Harry Truman will be among the 20,000 expected for the home-stand opener with Boston. So will Govs. James Blair of Missouri, George Docking of Kansas and Victor Anderson of Nebraska.

Cerv is second in the league with 65 runs batted in, tied for third in homers with 24 and fourth in hitting with a .325 average.

He probably leads in courage—a statistic the records don't show. Cerv has played this season while his jaw was broken and wired shut. He played in the All-Star game with a broken toe. He will be in the starting lineup tonight with an elbow painfully swollen. Cerv was hit by a pitched ball Saturday.

The committee in charge of Bob Cerv Night says contributions from fans will furnish the home which the Cervs recently purchased near Kansas City.

HUSBAND AND WIFE COMBINE TALENTS IN ART

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

When Roslyn and Harris Strong met, they had no idea they would make a design team and start another trend in American ceramics. But that's just what they did.

Harris had wanted to be an artist, but grew discouraged and turned first to chemical engineering.

Roslyn had studied fashion design, expecting to do screen printing like her dad, who was a teacher at Textile High School in New York and a craftsman in the silk industry.

When they met, Harris had two small businesses—pottery and modern lamps. She was hand painting silks—dresses, ties, scarves. Why not pool their talents?

Has Flair Of Modern Design

They married, went into business together and now have a thriving New York studio where they produce tiles and ceramic plaques mounted on leather, wood panels, lamps and tables in exclusive glazed textural effects. Roslyn has a distinctive flair for modern design and even lovers of traditional furnishings find warmth in her impressionistic and abstract motifs. She works with brilliant and vibrant colors.

"Most tile techniques are done with flat underglaze," she explains. "Ours are not flush to the surface, but are raised, giving interesting dimensional effects."

All their tiles are hand decorated. Commercial potters are afraid of that method because the designs can look pretty hackneyed, she says. Harris works out the glazes and other firing techniques after she dreams up the designs.

Is a husband and wife work team easy to keep harmonious?

Harmony Not Easy

"Not, it's not as compatible as it may seem," she laughs. "We often have fights about ideas before they are put into production—like the time I decided we could make beautiful free from plaques by rolling them out with a rolling pin, just like pie dough. Harris thought it was a stupid idea, but I bought the rolling pins from a bakery supply house anyway and went ahead with the plan."

The designs of those plaques were primitives, pressed into the ceramic material with a plastic mold. At one point, Roslyn relates, Harris looked around the studio, in despair, remarking:

"This place looks more like a bakery than a ceramic studio."

Roslyn, mother of two boys aged 5 and 7, could have quit right there, but she didn't.

"I stuck to my guns," she says, "and the primitive designs are still in the line, and very good sellers."

Harris has learned that womanly whims occasionally pay off.

This subject matter of their ceramics includes a wide range of motifs from Madagascar car door carvings and Sumatra landscapes to antique French playing cards, all in artistic backgrounds.

Boy 16, Gets Up To 20 Years In Cop Slaying

READING, Pa. (AP)—William Clayton Henderson, 16-year old Douglass Township youth, must serve eight to 20 years for the rifle slaying of State Trooper Philip Melley last Nov. 3.

Henderson changed his plea to guilty several months ago after his trial had started. Monday Berks County Judge Warren K. Hess made it second degree murder and sent Henderson to the Eastern Diagnostic and Classification Center in Philadelphia. Henderson's counsel, Atty. Henry M. Kock, had asked the charge be fixed at involuntary manslaughter.

Melley was killed investigating a report of a family argument. Henderson's parents were in the courtroom when the sentence was handed down.

Man Is Held For Jury; Forgery In Two States

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Edward R. Chambers, 43, of Yeadon, Pa., is being held without bail pending grand jury action on charges of interstate transportation of forged and altered checks.

Chambers, arrested Saturday in Ocean City, was ordered held Monday by Federal Commissioner Charles Rudd. He is wanted by Eastern Federal District authorities in Philadelphia and in Folsom and Longport, N.J., on similar charges, Rudd said. The amount involved was not disclosed.

Bat Slips And Babe Is Killed

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—A baseball bat slipped from the hands of a five-year-old boy Monday night and struck his two-year old sister who was playing nearby. She was killed.

Debbie Bednarik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bednarik, of Easton was dead on arrival at Easton Hospital. An autopsy was scheduled today to determine the cause of death.

Police said she and her brother, John, were playing in a backyard. The boy was swinging at a ball when the bat slipped accidentally from his hands and struck the girl in the chest. She collapsed and the father tried unsuccessfully to revive her before she was taken to the hospital.

The father, a teacher and assistant football coach at Easton High School, is a brother of Chuck Bednarik, Philadelphia Eagles pro football star.

PUBLIC DEMANDS MORE SOUNDS BY PERCUSSIONISTS

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It's difficult to reconcile pickaxes, automobile brake drums and mixing bowls with a symphony. But these items are fast becoming part of the stock-in-trade of modern-day symphony orchestras.

"More and more composers are inserting unusual sounds in their scores and there's a public demand for it," says Miss Vera McNary, principal percussionist with the Kansas City Philharmonic. "More all-percussion works are being composed, too. One number, for example, calls for all percussionists—plus three hand clappers and a Spanish dancer."

Breakage A Problem
"With the new trend, percussionists have gained in stature. They have sight appeal, you know, as well as sound appeal. Something about playing a woodoo drum or using oriental cymbals or extracting tones from mixing bowls strikes a responsive chord in an audience."

Mixing bowls, ordinary china bowls picked up at a variety store, were first used by the philharmonic in playing Henry Cowell's Symphony No. 11.

"There was some breakage during rehearsals," Miss McNary says, "but I guess we picked up ever more enthusiasm during the concert."

"We started with four sets of bowls. A bowl shattered there and a bowl shattered there. You know how many bowls we had left when the symphony ended? Just one."

Miss McNary, wife of airline pilot J. O. Daehlin of Los Angeles, joined the philharmonic 15 years ago when she was only 18.

Remarkable Beginning

She became a percussionist at the age of seven because of an extraordinary automobile deal. A young man with a yen for a Model T but no ready cash, came into her father's automobile agency in

Handcuffed Man Tries To Escape

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Louis McCluney, 27, kicked open the door of a police car Monday night and jumped out wearing handcuffs. But he was wounded and captured a few minutes later in a wooded area.

McCluney, of Phoenixville, had been arrested on a charge of breaking and entering a house and was being driven to police headquarters in the patrol car.

He was wounded slightly in the arm by pellets from Patrolman Thomas McCabe's shotgun after McCabe and several other officers surrounded him in the woods near the road.

Mankato, Kan. For a down-payment, Miss McNary's father accepted a xylophone, a set of drums, a waffle iron, a coffee pot and an electric corn popper.

"My father told me if I could play a piece on the xylophone by the time he came home the following night, I could keep the instrument," she says. "I learned that piece in a hurry."

Miss McNary lives in Los Angeles now, but returns to Kansas City each year to play with the philharmonic. She's always on the alert for new sounds and instruments to make sounds.

In addition to pickaxes and mixing bowls, Miss McNary has used woodoo drums which she picked up in Haiti; sleigh bells that once belonged to her grandfather; tiny Siamese cymbals; a Trinidad steel drum, made from a heat-treated oil drum; timbales, which are South American instruments played with sticks; bird whistles; sliding whistles, and oriental cymbals played on the fingers.

Then, of course, there are the usual percussion instruments. But Miss McNary hasn't filled out her repertoire. Right now she's looking for a rather simple item. George Gershwin's "American in Paris" calls for honking automobile horns, the old-fashioned kind you honk by squeezing a rubber bulb.

Tense Military Scene In Middle East Is Sketched By Our "Faith" Artist

EDITOR'S NOTE: How does the tension ridden Middle East appear to an artist? Howard Brodie, artist-author of "The Power of Faith," toured the Middle East this spring in search of material for his drawings. While there he could not help being impressed with the feeling of crisis in Jordan. Here he tells of the soldiers and people he met in words and sketches.

By HOWARD BRODIE

"Revolution within a month" was the last rumor I heard in Jordan. I could feel the tension of this area during my sketching trip earlier this year. While walking on the Mount of Olives I heard shots and thought hunters were near by. Three men had been shot in a border incident.

Jerusalem was cut in half by barbed wire mines, and machine guns. There was only one gate through which a foreigner could cross and if he crossed it, he could not return. At night I heard the heavy foot steps of patrols along the border fifty feet from my hotel room.

Other than for his red headdress the Arab soldier looks like a British soldier. His winter coat looks American. The headdress, aside from keeping the head warm in winter, shaded in summer, and offering protection from dust and insects, communicates hidden meanings in its folds: draped across the mouth might mean anger, one fold across top of head means a bachelor looking for a girl.

Reflects Hospitality Of People

The Arab soldier reflects the hospitality of his people: Coffee and tea are offered upon introduction. I've had about ten cups of Turkish coffee in one day while meeting people. I visited an army camp and after coffee and cake sketched soldiers. Many were reluctant to pose fearing pictures would be used in anti-Arab propaganda. The camp had impressive buildings and compared favorably with our army camps, and reminded me of them with the sound of radio music and lines of laundry. The officers and men were intelligent and courteous.

On the Jerusalem-Jericho highway I passed the Good Samaritan Inn. Permission to sketch was denied since it was a military post. However, the mounted policemen poured me coffee and offered to cook a meal. They maintain order and patrol for Communist infiltrators. They are impressive in black boots and chartreuse headdresses on their mounts. They purchase their own horses. The visit was interrupted by the visit of district commander, who informed the post a convoy of government officials would be passing en route to Amman. Guards were posted along the fifty-mile highway stretch which passes the Dead Sea. There were army camps along the sea and patrol boats on its waters.

Have Colored Headpieces

At sundown on Bethlehem road workmen in Arab robes moved up to the border, carrying weapons for their hours of national guard duty. The regular army wears red headdresses, the reserves yellow headdresses, the mounted police chartreuse, the police gold-spiked helmets, the secret police western suits and Arab headdress. I know, because I was questioned by them. Foreigners are understandably suspect because at all times the border is closed. While sketching trees along Jordan River I was questioned by soldiers who thought I was making maps. Again sketching roof tops in Bethlehem I was told to report to police station. Luckily, I had newspaper clippings in Arabic describing my work and was released with apology. I learned I had been followed for several weeks in the belief that I was a spy.

I crossed the one way border gate with awareness of the linder box of the Middle East and memories of hospitable Arab people.

Men of many occupations make up the national guard in Jordan. They leave their work for certain hours of night duty patrolling the border.

Brodie drew this national guardsman on night duty. By day, the Bedouin is a shepherd in the Bethlehem hills.

To Check Monoxide In School Buses

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — State police inspectors are learning how to use new equipment which will allow them to detect carbon monoxide leaks in school buses.

A demonstration of the equipment was given to some 200 police and state officials at the State Police Training School Monday. The inspection program begins Aug. 1.

O. D. Shipley, director of the Bureau of Highway Safety, said carbon monoxide leaks in school buses has not been a problem in the state but the equipment will be used as an extra precaution.

GIRL, 5, GETS HER FILL OF HOME COOKING

PANA, Ill. (AP) — For the first time in her young life, 5-year-old Karen Lee Gordon is getting her fill of home cooking.

Mashed potatoes, noodles, eggs, fruits, even a little meat — whatever Mom puts on the table, the pert, blonde child polishes off. Then she rubs her expanding belly, coos blissfully and proudly reports, "I'm full."

It's something new for the Gordon household. Gone is the hated tube through which the little girl had to be fed since she was 3 days old.

Because Karen was born without an esophagus, doctors had to insert the tube through a hole in her abdomen. Eating was a tasteless ordeal.

New World Opens

An operation two years ago permitted the child to take semi-liquid baby foods, even a little ice cream. But she still couldn't eat solids and received most of her food by tube.

Last Thursday, Karen, turned 5. She celebrated the birthday with cake and ice cream in her room at St. Mary's Hospital, Decatur, Ill. She ate all she wanted and that's when they knew positively that the last of seven operations had worked.

Doctors had succeeded in substituting for the esophagus a portion of the child's lower intestine. Karen went home last Friday, to a marvelous new world of foods.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today made public its latest proposals for a nonaggression treaty between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact group. Basically there was little new.

The recommendations included reduction of foreign troops in Germany, a nuclear-free zone in central Europe and aerial surveys in central Europe to prevent surprise attacks. The new version of the proposals was contained in notes delivered to the big-power Western ambassadors in Moscow last Tuesday.

SAYS LEBANESE SICK AND TIRED OF WHOLE THING

BEIRUT (AP) — "We're sick and tired of the whole thing. The people don't care what kind of a solution develops so long as they get this over with."

Camille Birbari, 36-year-old purchasing agent for a Lebanese firm, was talking. His office is in the center of Beirut—one of the hottest spots in the 73-day-old rebellion against Lebanon's pro-Western government.

Frequently, Birbari has telephoned his pretty wife Aida, mother of one child and with another on the way, that he had to work late.

Under Rebel Fire

Actually his office building was under heavy rebel fire. One employee was killed and another wounded. Birbari moved his desk away from the window and felt reasonably safe. But he couldn't tell his wife the real reason for his working late — "She was already nervous and I wouldn't give her any more bad news."

Aida's time drew near. Because of rebel sandbag barriers in sections of the city and the government's 8 p.m. curfew, the husband became apprehensive about the trip to the hospital.

"We had curfew passes, of course, not knowing when Aida might have to go to the hospital. Then they canceled the old passes and told everybody in the city they would have to get new ones. There was nothing we could do. But hope for the best. My wife was nervous but very brave."

Ten days ago Birbari took his wife to the hospital — at 7 p.m., an hour before the streets were cleared and before the nightly shootings and bombings began. The baby arrived that night.

Birbari said the arrival of the U.S. Marines caused celebrations among the government supporters and badly scared the opposition. But the great majority of the people now just want peace, he declared, adding: "We are sick and tired of it. We're against anything that disturbs the stability of the country."

Avoid Fatal Farm Accidents So Far

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania Farm Safety Week reached the halfway point today with no farm accident fatalities reported.

The Farm Safety Week Committee said, "No farm accident fatalities this week would mean that farm family and hired workers are becoming more safety-conscious, benefiting through safety education efforts the week ending Saturday."

The week is one of the busiest on many Pennsylvania farms as farmers hit the peak of haymaking and harvesting of wheat and other small grains. Some of the farmers also were picking red sour cherries and early apples.

An average of two farm accident fatalities per week were reported during the first six months of this year, the committee said, but a maximum of five could normally be expected this week due to the increased activity.

LEADER TALKS ABOUT RESERVE PA. PARK PLAN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gov. Leader proposed today that the Commonwealth buy land near heavily populated areas in anticipation of future needs of the regional park system.

"We should buy the land we need while prices are still within reason," Leader said. "For the longer we wait, the more the Commonwealth will have to pay."

The governor will discuss the park reserve program at an annual picnic of the Kane-Stewart Booster Club here tonight.

Sees Rising Costs

"Tomorrow our increasing population will need more recreational area if our parks are not to be terribly overcrowded. Let's buy it now before it is swallowed up by urban expansion, and develop it into parks and recreation areas later, as the need develops," he said.

Ten or 20 years from now, Leader predicted expansion will force the cost of land up to exorbitant levels in the urban areas where they will be needed most.

The governor praised the Mellon Foundation and the Allegheny County commissioners for acquiring six recreational sites for the future. The 3,650 acres purchased by the foundation and sold to the county for future recreational development cost three million dollars. Leader called the purchase "a bargain now and an even greater bargain in the years to come."

HOPES DASHED ON TAX RELIEF

SHILLINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvanians anticipating any tax relief in the next biennium had their hopes dashed Monday night by Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican gubernatorial candidate.

The Reading pretzel manufacturer said that the state's financial burdens are increasing at a rate to make new taxes necessary in the next fiscal period.

McGonigle told a joint meeting of the Shillington Lions and Rotary Clubs that more money will be needed to meet expenses mandated by the last Legislature and to pay off what he termed a vast deficit.

He labeled as a "pie in the sky" promises that no new taxes would be needed, adding that whoever wins the November election will face the problem.

McGonigle said the Leader administration has increased the number of persons on the state payroll from 10,000 to 70,000 in the last four years. He said this also would necessitate new taxes.

Beirut, Is The Symbol Of War, Which Is Not War, And The City Of Peace Which Is Not Peace

By RELMAN MORIN
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A starshell blazes suddenly in the night sky and hangs there bathing the hills outside Beirut in a pale unearthly light—the U.S. Marines are hunting snipers above the air-field.

Coming into the city, you pass through that eternal symbol of danger after dark — a sandbag roadblock bristling with Tommy guns.

The streets are completely deserted, but along the docks you see all the massive clanking machinery of war—gray-bulldozed warships, tanks, guns, mortars and rockets, mountains of equipment piled behind barbed wire stockades under the glare of powerful searchlights.

Looks Painfully Familiar
By night it all looks painfully familiar, the grim trappings of war. But by day you might as well be in Atlantic City or Long Beach, Calif.

Bikinis blossom on the beaches. The white sails of pleasure craft glitter on the sea.

"Hey, sarge, when are we going swimming?" asks a Marine in a mortar position.

You want to visit the Lebanese rebels who have brought all this about? All you have to do is walk up the street to that sandbag barricade. They are watching government buildings from there.

Or if you want, you can pick up the telephone and talk with their leaders.

Good Question
Why don't government forces walk up the street and clean them out? They have armored cars parked nearby and the Lebanese security forces look tough. So why not wrap this thing up and get it over with?

Well, that's a good question. But nobody seems to have the answer. It is lost in the inextricable tangle of politics here, where there seem to be no sharp lines or clear divisions between the various factions.

In short, Beirut today is a perfect symbol of war that is not a war and peace that certainly is not peace.

It would be faintly ridiculous except for two facts:

First, like events through the whole Moslem world—Iraq, Syria, Egypt, Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria—this is Arab nationalism fanned by Gamal Abdel Nasser into rebellion against the established order.

Rebels Might Disperse
Second, it looks very much as though the United States is in the position of a man beating a pillow. All the military force can do here is drive the revolutionaries underground. They might disperse for the time being. But as soon as the pressure goes off they would start over again.

"There are Marine positions all over the place here," said a sergeant who fought in both World War II and Korea. "They can't see anything and they aren't fighting anybody. They're sitting around with nothing to do. How long are they going to keep us here?"

Incredible Contradictions
That in fact is the very heart of the question. The United States and Britain have taken action in the Mideast and perhaps somehow the situation will stabilize itself so the troops can be withdrawn.

But the incredible contradictions of a war that isn't a war and a peace that isn't a peace multiply on every hand. And the strident almost screaming voice of Gamal Abdel Nasser comes regularly over the radio, inflaming Arab feelings.

The situation is not going to get better very soon and it may take an irreparable turn for the worse.

Island In The Sun Stirs Theater Row

WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP)—Cars blocked the gates of a drive-in theater which advertised it dared to display a movie Sunday night showing a romance between a Negro man and a white woman.

A Montgomery Advertiser reporter said some 75 cars arrived at the Dixie drive-in at 8 p.m., shortly after it started showing the movie "Island in the Sun." An estimated 200 persons milled about the gate, but many of them were spectators.

A man holding a shotgun sat in one of the cars blocking the gate while other men stopped prospective patrons. One of those halting persons approaching the theater near here said he was from a White Citizens Council.

Shortly after the demonstrators arrived, the power line to the drive-in was cut, and the picture was not completed. The men then started allowing the 15 to 25 cars of patrons to leave.

Tax Agents Round Up 5 State Moonshiners

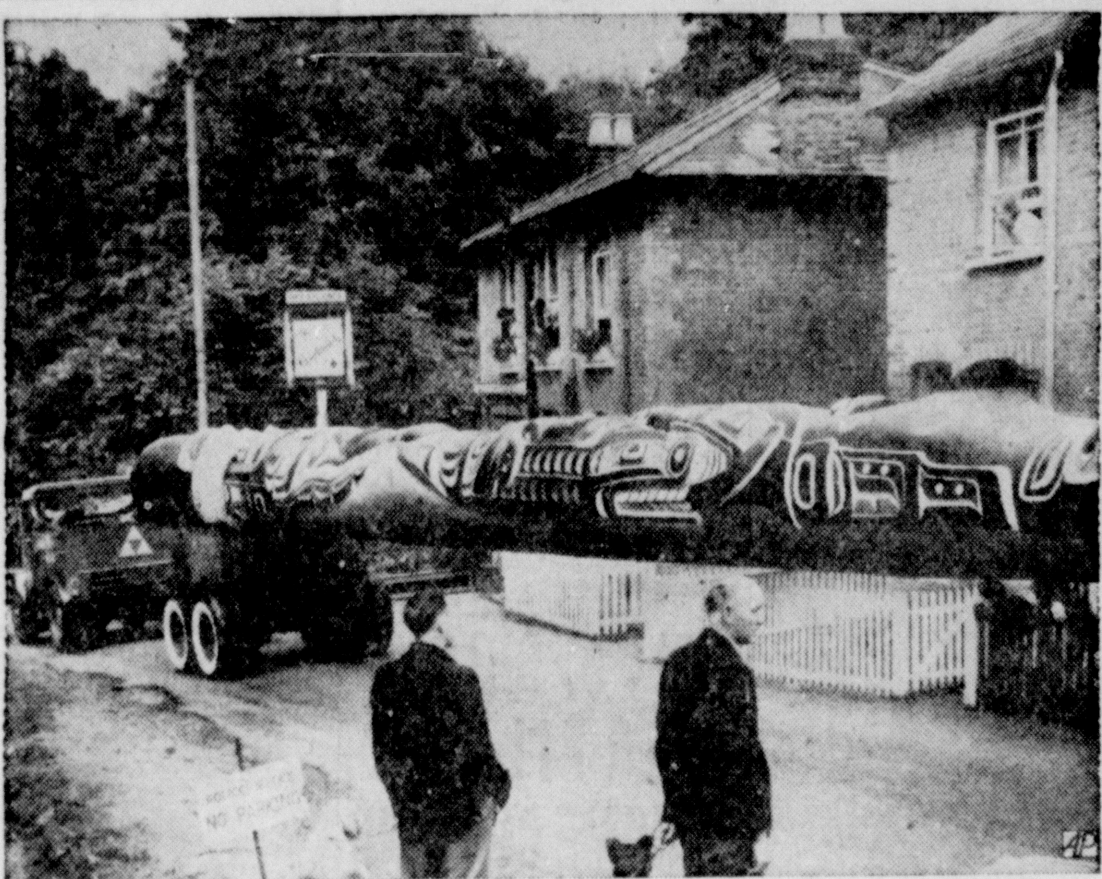

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal alcohol tax agents have arrested five men in Western Pennsylvania on charges of distributing illegal whiskey.

Three men were taken into custody at Dunbar, Fayette County. Agents identified them as James E. Hiles, 26; his brother, George; and their brother-in-law, Charles Lowery, 38, all of Dunbar.

Arrested in Pittsburgh were Rocco DiPippa, also known as Roxie Long, 61, and Ernest P. Dean, 23. Agents said the pair was distributing moonshine to alleged Hill District speakeasies. They said 25 gallons of moonshine was found in DiPippa's car.

All five men were arrested Saturday night.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has postponed for at least a year a decision, and the fight certain to go with it, on how to develop atomic electric power.

The 386 million dollar atomic energy authorization bill approved by the House and the Senate last week provides little in the way of new reactor development.

President Eisenhower wanted only half that amount approved. He protested, though not too vigorously, the bill drafted by the Democratic-controlled Senate House Atomic Energy Committee.

Easy Passage
But the Atomic Energy Commission and Republican members of the committee raised little objection to the measure, and the bill sailed through Congress without a call in either house.

The ease of passage was in sharp contrast to the bitter bipartisan battles of the previous two years over atomic authorizations. It was deliberate.

Democratic members of the committee who want an ambitious long-term program of atomic reactor construction deliberately withheld their proposals this year to achieve a monetary truce.

They feel that with Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss no longer chairman of the AEC, the commission and Congress might have a better chance of getting together next year.

Basic Question
The basic question that arose shortly after World War II remains: Shall the government take the lead in development of atomic energy for power or shall the responsibility be given to private industry?

Democrats on the joint committee want the government to take the initiative on the ground that private industry is either unwilling or unable to expend the vast sum which would be required.

Republican committee members have expressed fears that government-financed development would provide a foot in the door for public power interests to take over atomic power.

Private Financing
The lone large-scale power reactor in operation, at Shippingport, Pa., is owned by the government though operated by Duquesne Light Co.

The next reactor expected to produce commercial power, a proposed Commonwealth Edison Co. plant at Dresden, Ill., south of Chicago, will be financed entirely by private funds.

The private vs. public power issue was voiced only briefly during the Senate debate on this year's bill. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) proposed an amendment that would have prevented conversion of a government plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash., to generate electric power.

Long-Range Program
The amendment lost to the argument that any power produced would be used by the AEC installation itself.

Capitol Hill sources indicate the committee next year may come up with some kind of proposal for a long-range program of power reactor construction.

If it does, Congress will face another private vs. public power fight but may settle the issue once and for all.

IRAQ WANTS TO PRESERVE ITS TIES WITH WEST

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP) — A smartly dressed Iraqi colonel staged a polite and smiling coup here today. He ousted his ambassador and top aides and set up a minor diplomat as temporary head of the Iraqi mission to Britain.

Col. Abdul Kadir Falk, mustached 35-year-old graduate of a British military staff college, appeared at a news conference to announce that the onetime embassy of the Kingdom of Iraq is now the Embassy of the republic.

"The ambassador and minister do not hold their positions now," he explained.

The colonel said he had conferred by telephone today with Brig. Abdul Karim Kassem, Premier of the new Iraqi regime, and received his instructions.

Col. Falk brushed aside references to the ambassador, Prince Al-Amir Zeid ibn Al-Hussein, great uncle of the slain King Faisal and now sole surviving member of the Iraqi royal family.

Col. Falk said the Kassem had told him on the telephone: "For God's sake make it clear to the West that we are still their friends. We will be their friends and we should like to continue the former relations between Iraq and the West."

No Reds Involved
Oil, he said, would continue to flow to its usual markets. He said there was no intention to nationalize the oil fields.

There was "no truth whatever" to reports the Iraqi revolutionary movement was supported by Communists," he said.

"We are not Communists. We

DISSUADER OF SUICIDES IS VISITING U. S.

NEW YORK — A German doctor-clergyman who is trying to rid his country of the stigma of having the highest suicide rate in the world has come to America on a month's visit.

In the practice of his two professions, he has dissuaded more would-be suicides in recent years than perhaps any other person in the world. Beyond that, he has founded in Berlin an agency which in its first 16 months of existence answered 15,000 phone calls and counseled 900 persons who were considered in immediate danger of taking their own lives.

Although a psychiatrist and an ordained Lutheran minister, Dr. Klaus Thomas earns a living for himself and his family by teaching in a Berlin "high school. Every "spare moment" he has, however, is spent showing how the combined insights of medicine and religion can help sick and despairing people get a new hold on life.

Full-Time Staff
He has come here for knowledge about the practice of pastoral psychology in this country and to fill a number of lecture and preach. The organization he started in August 18.

"There wasn't the slightest doubt who was running the Iraqi Embassy."

The organization re started in December, 1956 — known as the Fellowship of St. Luke — now has a five-room office with five phones and a full-time staff of three. Its part-time, volunteer staff consists of 20 specialists in psychology, medicine, pastoral counseling and other fields. Four of these are Roman Catholics. They have advised a total of 3,500 persons from both East and West Germany. Of these, 700 were given psychiatric treatment. Of the 15,000 phone calls answered, 4,000 were from people in despair, Dr. Thomas said.

The agency also provides on-the-spot training for a group of East Berlin theological students who spend a total of three years in Dr. Thomas' "seminary for pastoral care." Some of these will go out and start similar agencies in other cities. Eight such agencies are already functioning in different parts of Europe, according to Dr. Thomas.

The Berlin agency is an offshoot of the Order of St. Luke in Germany, whose chaplain is Dr. Thomas and whose ecclesiastical sponsor is Lutheran Bishop Otto Dibelius, head of the Evangelical Church in Germany. The Order of St. Luke is an international organization composed of people interested in coordinating medical and spiritual care.

Dr. Thomas' American itinerary includes New York, New Haven, Conn., Boston, Washington, D. C., Massanetta and Lynchburg, Va., Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.

Maryland and Virginia contributed the 100 square miles to form the District of Columbia on which to locate the national seat of government.

AP Moves Office From War Zone Phone Woes

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Beirut office of The Associated Press has been moved away from the "war zone."

The telephones went dead early Sunday morning. Lebanese authorities said telephone linemen refused to approach the office to make repairs because it was too close to an insurgent barricade.

Rebels are manning a sandbag barrier two blocks off the street within sight of the office front door. They occasionally fire down the street toward some government buildings.

So the office was moved into a quieter residential area.

Lancaster Bakery Has $100,000 Blaze Monday

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Fire in the garage of a bakery Monday caused a loss estimated by Asst. Fire Chief Melvin Ruth at between $85,000 and $100,000.

He said the blaze at the Koehler & Fretz, Inc., bakery apparently began in a truck on which a mechanic was working with welding equipment. Seven drivers who had just reported from work drove 28 other trucks out of the building.

The fire burned into a stock room before being brought under control by Lansdale and North Wales firemen.

La Gloria Oil and Gas Company... a versatile subsidiary

Like its parent Texas Eastern, subsidiary La Gloria Oil and Gas Company is versatile... having a variety of interests in several fields of activity.

La Gloria owns and operates one of the largest natural gas cycling plants in the world, at Falfurrias, Texas. It processes some 320 million cubic feet of natural gas each day to recover approximately 10,500 barrels of liquids including natural gasoline, kerosene, butane and propane.

As a production and exploration company, La Gloria occupies a commanding position. The company has under lease approximately 68,000 producing acres and some 103,000 acres of land as yet undeveloped for production, in the states of Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma. During 1957 La Gloria accounted for production of 2,588,300 barrels of crude oil and 25 billion cubic feet of natural gas from its producing wells.

Early in 1957, La Gloria acquired McMurrey Refining Company, Tyler, Texas. La Gloria now has one of the nation's most modern refineries at Tyler. This refinery is a custom producer of automotive and aviation gasolines in the high octane range. The Tyler refinery also produces a multitude of by-products, including petroleum coke for industry... aromatic distillate for paint solvents... carbon black oil essential in manufacturing tires and inks... specialty products for fertilizers and insecticides... high purity hydrocarbons and alkylates for top-quality fuels for today's modern jet aircraft.

The activities of La Gloria typify the Texas Eastern diversification pattern, which has enabled the company to keep pace with the fast changing national economy.

FAVORS CRIME INTELLIGENCE AGENCY IN PA.

By BOB BOLTON
HARRISBURG (AP)—Victor H. Wright will agree with anybody who holds to the adage that there is no honor among thieves. He claims any criminal will turn against a fellow lawbreaker if the price is right.

And Wright should know his subject pretty well because he has spent a good many of his 40-odd years in tracking down criminals throughout Pennsylvania.

Wright, a deputy attorney general and one of the department's most busy investigators, says "money is one of the best weapons a law enforcer can have."

Favors New Setup
"Don't believe that bunk about there being honor among thieves," he instructed. "If you pass enough green stuff across the palm, any criminal will sell out on his fellow lawbreaker."

Reasoning along these lines, Wright envisioned for a newsmen a statewide crime intelligence agency which would have a force of investigators to seek out criminals by any means and turn the information over to the proper authorities.

"Suppose the Legislature did set up some sort of crime commission to act as an information clearing house on criminal activity in Pennsylvania," he said, adding:

Cheap At A Million
"A million dollars a year to operate that force would be cheap by comparison with the millions lost annually in the state due to crime."

"Such a force would have to employ investigators who could have in their possession money which could be spent without too much restriction," he explained.

More than half a million acres in New Mexico have been preserved as Wilderness Areas to protect wild life and vegetation. These areas may be reached only on foot or horseback.

SAYS UNIONS WELCOME GOP

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A union official in Pittsburgh says Republicans are welcome as members of labor unions and terms "shocking and disgraceful" statements made by Joseph A. McDonough, head of the State Federation of Labor.

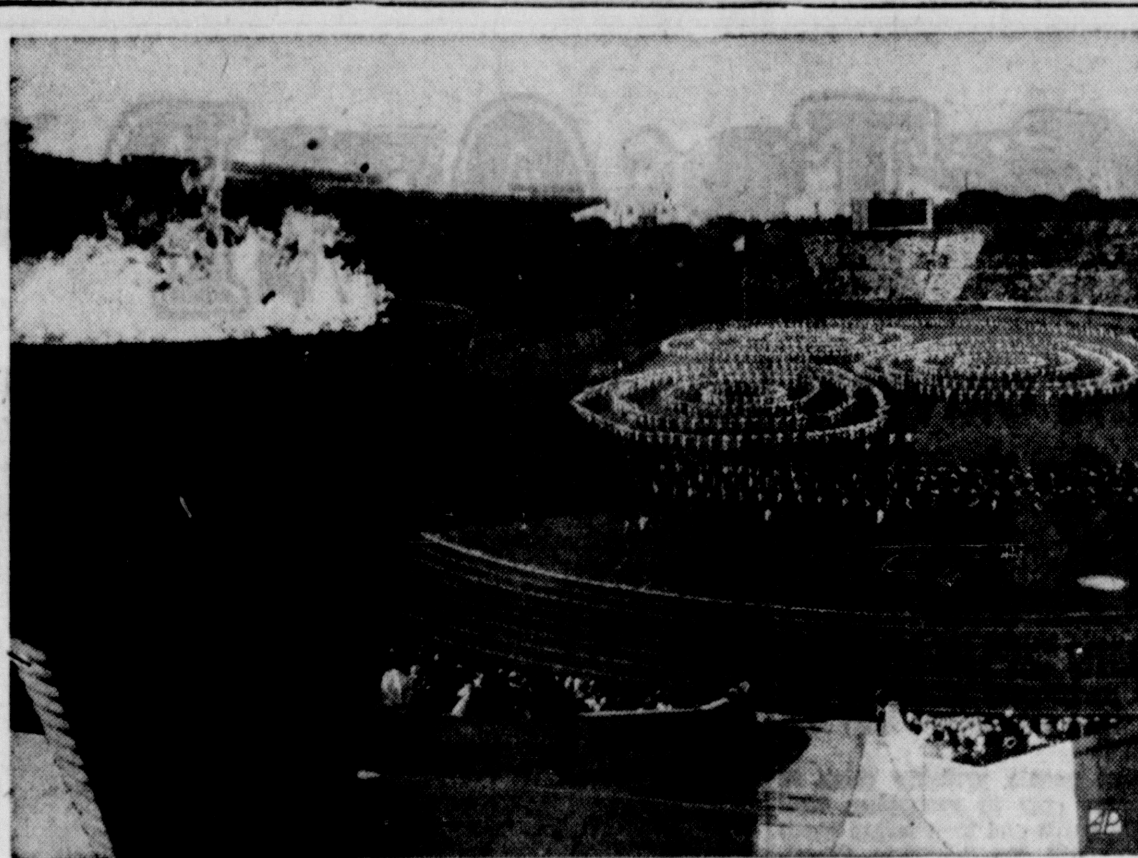

Clifton C. Caldwell, president of Local 500, Amalgamated Food Employees Union, said Monday that the AFL-CIO's committee on political education advocates non-partisanship.

Caldwell, also an international vice president of the Amalgamated Assn. of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, added:

"We try to prevail on our people to vote for the man who will best serve their interests—whether Republicans or Democrats."

McDonough told a Democratic meeting in Harrisburg last weekend that Republicans are becoming fewer and fewer in labor unions. McDonough said:

"As far as I am concerned there should be no Republicans in the unions."

Rev. Karns Preacher

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, delivered a sermon on the subject "Leaves" at the union vesper service on Sunday evening in the Crouse Park pavilion. The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, presided, and the worship was as follows: Invocation, the Rev. Mr. Karns; hymn, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Jay D. Basehoar, organist at St. John's Church; scripture, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ; anthem, St. John's choir; offering and prayer, the Rev. William R. Jones, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church; congregational hymn; sermon, Pastor Karns; benediction, the Rev. Charles B. Rebert, retired minister of the Reformed Church.

The final service in the summer outdoor series of union vesper worship will be held next Sunday at 7 o'clock in the park pavilion. The sermon will be presented by the Rev. M. Jones. The union services are sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall, met on Friday evening at the church with Mrs. Roscoe Klinefelter as leader. The program opened with a hymn by the group, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. James Reichart; prayer in unison, led by Mrs. Klinefelter; scripture, Mrs. Klinefelter with silent meditations by Mrs. Guy McCabe, Mrs. John H. Hartlaub, Mrs. Percell Worley, and Mrs. Parr R. Breighner, as the organ was softly played by Mrs. Reichart; topic discussion, "We Believe In The Holy Spirit," with all members participating; closing prayer, Mrs. Parr Breighner.

The business period was conducted in charge of the president, Mrs. Percell Worley. A receipt was received for 306 pounds of used clothing collected recently by the society for the World Service Center in New Windsor. The next meeting will be held one week later than the usual time, Friday Aug. 22, 8 p.m. at the church, with Mrs. John Hartlaub as leader.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 84 will meet at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Scout headquarters from where they will go to the Littlestown Fish and Game Farm, near town.

Bee Sting Fatal To Scranton Man

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A Scranton man died Monday of a bee sting suffered while he was berry picking with his family.

Dr. Paul Kubasko, Lackawanna County coroner, said Michael E. Rowinski died of anaphylactic shock caused by the bite on his hand.

Rowinski, his wife and children were picking blueberries on a farm at nearby Bald Mount. He collapsed 10 minutes after he was stung and was dead on arrival at Scranton State Hospital.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost from the moment President Eisenhower sent American troops into Lebanon his action has raised questions which may seem unpleasant to think about but which nevertheless must be faced.

For example: Now that we're in Lebanon, when do we get out and how?

The President's action — widely supported in this country but far from widely supported around the world — was taken at the request of Lebanese President Chamoun, who said he feared violent, subversive overthrow of his government.

Election On Thursday
But even in Lebanon there was far from general approval of Chamoun's request or Eisenhower's action.

The quick landing of Marines July 15 may have prevented the violent overthrow Chamoun said he feared. But it also antagonized the rest of the Arab world and provided the Soviet Union with anti-American propaganda. And the United States may wind up in a truly embarrassing position before this is over.

In the first place, the 66-member Lebanese Parliament is scheduled to meet on Thursday.

been impressive in his workouts and races at Hollywood Park; Lookout Point, St. Vincent, How Now and Eddie Schmidt.

Eddie Schmidt gave Gallant Man a fight for the Gold Cup. He lost by a half length, and with 110 pounds today he figures as a really dangerous contender.

uled to elect a successor to President Chamoun Thursday. Chamoun's term does not officially expire until Sept. 23.

Alternatives Cited
If the election is held, Chamoun probably will serve out his term. So long as he is in office, there will be an excuse for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

But if his successor is chosen in legal and orderly fashion Thursday and asks the United States to withdraw, this country will find itself in an almost untenable position, and would have little choice but to withdraw once Chamoun stepped down.

In the second place: if the question of American troops in Lebanon goes before the United Nations General Assembly, many of the African, Asian and Arab nations may in effect repudiate the American intervention.

Crowning Problem
But on top of all these problems is this crowning one:

True, the United States forces in Lebanon — where Chamoun is pro-Western — may have prevented his bloody ouster and for the time being may have frustrated the hopes of Egyptian President Nasser to bring Lebanon under his wing.

But the tide of Arab nationalism in the Middle East is at crest now. And what happens when the American troops are withdrawn? There is a good chance Lebanon will join the Nasser camp and all this action will have been for naught in the long run except for this possible effect:

Will Back Friends
That it did show that the United States, when pushed hard enough, would act in defiance of Moscow or any revolutionary force to back its friends.

The questions applying to the United States position in the Middle East now apply equally to the British, whose troops have gone into Jordan at the request of King Hussein to save his government from violent overthrow.

But Ralph Lowe's brilliant little thoroughbred carried 130 in winning the Gold Cup, July 12, at 1 1/4 miles, and the pace was so slow that the victory took very little out of him. Trainer Johnny Nerud is confident his horse can handle the five competitors.

WORLD ON WHEELS

By Floyd Clymer

That the wagon is here to stay is a certainty. Chances are about ten to one that the man who is driving a station wagon today will likely be driving a wagon in one, two, three or four years from now. He may not be driving the same make, but he has definitely been won over to the wagon idea. In a recent survey, it was found that some 95 per cent of present wagon owners stated they intended to purchase the same body style when they buy again. The survey also showed that the wagon is becoming more than ever a family car, as nearly one-half of the wagon owners use them exclusively for family purposes; while only a few of them use their wagons exclusively for business. Some two out of three station wagon owners have no other car—the glamor and prestige of wagon ownership remains high. The survey shows that 87 per cent of wagon owners are satisfied with the carrying capacity of their car, and only 13 per cent desire additional room. Four-door models now far outsell the two-door models, which came into sales popularity first.

For 1959 U. S. makers have many innovations in store for the wagon-conscious buyer. There will be more of the controversial nine-passenger wagons than ever before. Many will have improved tail gates—and more glass, thus offering better vision. At least one manufacturer, and possibly more, will offer swivel seats. And Chrysler Corporation Wagon's feature of Human beings are not the only creatures who have to adjust to the complexities of modern traffic. Even the reindeer must cope with it.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Most people probably think of reindeer only in connection with Santa Claus and then forget about them until the following Christmas. But up in northern Sweden, the Laplanders are concerned about the large number of reindeer which won't be there next holiday season.

The Lapps and their herds of reindeer have been around for many centuries. During this long existence there have been few changes in the way they live. The herds still move around northern Scandinavia searching for food. For many, the biggest dangers to survival have been wolves and bears.

Age Takes Toll

But the industrial age is advancing into the area now and is taking its toll. Freight trains, cars and trucks are becoming common sights and their presence is being felt in the diminishing numbers of reindeer still on the survival list.

More than 2,000 reindeer are killed each year by speeding trains and motor vehicles. Since the reindeer population is only an estimated 270,000, this represents a considerable loss over the years. Yet there seems to be no solution for rescuing these animals from their 20th century perils.

If anything deserves rescue, it's reindeer. After all, they've been getting along quite well with the Lapps for years and they have never disappointed the millions of youngsters all over the world who depend on them to deliver their hero. They've quietly grazed their land without causing any trouble. The only uprising they indulge in seats facing the rear will be adopted by some other makers. The rugged stream-lined vehicle of today is a far cry from the shabby wooden box bolted to a chassis, once known as the wagon. It is anyone's guess where and when wagon popularity will reach its sales potential.

Roof-mounted air conditioning units will be offered in at least four or more 1959 wagons.

Air suspension systems, which to date have proved disappointing, sales-wise, will probably be more widely used on wagons, although some believe the percentage of wagons equipped with air suspension units will actually drop. But the leveling device which is a part of most air suspension systems will possibly be more widely used. Like fuel injection, the extra cost of air suspension systems has reduced the expected demand. The leveling feature of air suspension is especially advantageous because of the lowered body positions and overall height of modern U. S. cars.

The electrically-operated window of the Dodge Wagon can be operated from the driver's seat—which, of course, is an advantage. Mercury has an innovation that twisting of the rear door lowers or raises the rear window in their wagon.

Need Safety Course

Perhaps someone could institute a basic course in safety for these animals. Certainly they should be made aware of the dangers of crossing a railroad or highway without first looking for oncoming traffic. Perhaps they could be made aware of the odds they are bucking when their adversaries are heavy freight trains. In combat, a bear is a cinch compared with the trains carrying iron ore through this region.

What do you think their chances are of benefiting from such training? If they take as long as humans in learning the tricks of staying alive on the highway, we'd better find some speedy substitutes for pulling Santa Claus' sleigh!

On September 16, 1947, John R. Cobb of England drove his specially designed car over the salt flats of Bonneville, Utah, at a record 403.135 miles per hour.

Not long afterward Cobb was riding in a New York cab. He looked tense and uncomfortable. "What's the matter?" his companion asked. "You aren't nervous, are you?"

"As a matter of fact, I am," Cobb admitted.

"I don't get it," the other man persisted. "How can you be nervous going 30 miles an hour and not at 400?"

"That's simple," the speedster answered. "Then I knew that everything was as mechanically perfect as it could be. Nothing was left to chance."

Joe, who runs the service station down at the corner of Main and Prospect, says much the same thing. He was watching a beat-up jalopy pull away from the station.

Many Similar Customers

"There's a guy I can't understand," Joe remarked. "His brakes are shot. I can't tighten 'em up anymore. And he comes back with, 'Oh they'll do for now. I'm not going far.' Heck! I wouldn't drive across town with brakes like that."

Joe has many customers like him.

There's the fellow whose radiator always needs water. Joe puts some in. But the real trouble, Joe tells the man, is that his radiator needs to be drained and cleaned. But the man says he hasn't time. Instead, he runs the risk of boiling over on the road.

Less Risky Driving

A woman comes in for air. One tire is almost flat, Joe tells her the tire has a slow leak.

"Well, just put some air in it for now," she orders. "My husband can come in Saturday."

Joe wishes people would make driving less risky by seeing to it their cars are "good enough for the salt flats"—as mechanically perfect as possible.

MORE ZOO TROUBLE

MOTOR MAIDS

Parents, Police Boost Road-e-o

By Jeanne Smith,
Safety Consultant

Rodeos may be nothing new out West, but a recent "Teen-age Road-e-o" in Inglewood, Calif., involving cars instead of horses, gave viewers an entirely new slant on young drivers.

Safety officials, police, and parents discovered that youngsters today are taking their driving seriously.

As one parent put it, after witnessing 700 Los Angeles area Explorer Scouts demonstrate their driving skills, "Teen-agers today really are being 'taught' to drive as opposed to the haphazard manner in which we 'picked it up.'"

Supervising Officer

Each of the boys, aged 14 to 18, participated in a driving test supervised by a state driving examiner and competed in a short economy run which demonstrated that careful driving is economical, too. They also took the standard California driver's written examination.

After scoring the tests, an examiner remarked, "These boys really know the motor vehicle code book. Only four per cent failed, and most of the errors were on questions dealing with recent changes in California driving laws."

A California Highway Patrol officer explained his interest in the program this way: "We're eager for any opportunity to work with prospective drivers. We like to get them young—before they have a chance to develop incorrect driving habits or attitudes."

"There's another thing, too," he added. "After we spend the day working with these boys, they realize we're their friends. That's a healthy attitude which helps us tremendously in our work."

Attacks New State Ruling On Speeding

A recent move by the Bureau of Highway Safety which penalizes Pennsylvania motorists for out-of-state speed law violations was termed today "beyond the bounds of common sense" by an official of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation (AAA).

Charles E. Pugh, secretary-manager of the PMF, said, "The bureau employed this authority Section 615 (e) of the Vehicle Code, can suspend or revoke the license of a Pennsylvania driver following a violation of the vehicle code in another state, providing the infraction would be grounds for such action if committed in the Commonwealth. Until recently, the Bureau employed this authority only in the case of such serious offenses as drunken driving, accidents involving financial responsibility or death, and using, possessing or selling narcotics."

"Approximately four months ago, in a shroud of secrecy," Pugh said, "the bureau began exercising this authority to its fullest extent by including out-of-state violations of speed limits and other minor infractions of the law. These out-of-state convictions are now entered into the records of the Bureau of Highway Safety and motorists are warned of having their driving privileges in Pennsylvania suspended, as Pennsylvania regulations require."

the federation takes exception to this recent action for two major reasons: First, the bureau didn't tell the motoring public what it was doing and, to date, the entire operation has been conducted in absolute secrecy. In the second place, speed traps and fining mills are operated in many states for the sole purpose of obtaining additional revenue and arrests are common.

"By interpreting the letter rather than the intent of Section 615 (e), the bureau not only fails to serve the cause of highway safety but further penalizes Pennsylvania motorists who have been victims of unwarranted entrapment," Pugh concluded.

the principal oration, though some question had been raised by members of the board as to his ability to speak upon such a grave and solemn occasion.

When the day came, the President, as one witness wrote, "said his half-drawn words of consecration, and the music wailed and we went home through crowded and cheering streets. And all the particulars are in the daily papers."

Those "half-drawn" simple words of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address have rung down the decades with ever-increasing meaning and inspiration.

We do not celebrate the Battle of Gettysburg. It is Lincoln's birthday that we set aside as the day on which to honor the memory of him who stands like an Everest in our history.

Yet it seems fitting on this anniversary of his birth to especially remember Lincoln as he was at Gettysburg. For it was not only the midpoint of the war which so profoundly shaped the nation's destiny, it is still merely the midpoint of the whole American history.

Lincoln reminded his listeners that only 87 years stood between them and that day on which a new nation, conceived in liberty, had been brought forth. Men who had been alive that day were still living when Lincoln spoke.

Today America faces a challenge to the principles to which it was dedicated in 1776 and rededicated by Lincoln in 1863 — a challenge no less grave than any it has ever faced before.

And like the challenge of Lincoln's day the danger lies not so much in a foreign enemy, but within ourselves — that we must not lose by default what the blood and sacrifice of previous generations have gained.

Gettysburg could have given cause for over-optimism to the Union, just as America's first satellite could now give us an excuse to return to the comfortable complacency which was only recently so rudely jarred. But Gettysburg did not decide the Civil War; the Civil War decided Gettysburg.

No, Lincoln on that day did not call for jubilation or resting, on laurels. Rather, he humbly prayed for rededication and new resolution. The nation could have taken a different course after Gettysburg; the course it will take today is not yet decided. The present is as much a pivot point in history as was 1863.

The task remains; the same challenge, in a new form, is still before us. The challenge, as Lincoln said at another time, of whether "we shall nobly save or meanly lose the last, best hope on earth."

Hungarian Writers Adopt Passive Resistance Weapon

By CARL HARTMAN
BUDAPEST (AP) — More than 18 months after the anti-Russian revolt that Hungarian writers helped spark in 1956, many of this country's best known literary men are in jail or in exile. A few are still on "strike."

Few Hungarian writers are known abroad. But at home even mediocre writers enjoy a good deal more prestige than their counterparts in English-speaking countries. That is why their share in the revolt was so important, why two of them — journalists Miklos Gimesz and Jozsef Szilagyi — recently paid for their activities by being executed with Imre Nagy.

Hungarian writers have a great revolutionary tradition. Poet Sandor Petofi, whom some critics compare with Shelley and Heine, was the hero of Hungary's revolt — also put down with the help of Russian troops.

Outcome Of Writers
Here is what has happened to a few of the best known Hungarian writers:

Gyorgy Lukacs, now 73, was minister of education and culture during the 1956 uprising. When the revolt was put down, he was first exiled to Romania but soon permitted to return. He has since published a book entitled "Peculiarity." Among other things, it deals with one of his favorite subjects — the writer and communism. He argues that even under a Communist system a writer must maintain a certain independence. Because of this, he has been attacked by Hungary's current chief ideologist.

Novelist Tibor Dery was arrested some six months after the revolt and last November was sentenced to nine years in prison.

Six Year Sentence
Gyula Hay, a playwright, wrote in early 1956 an article on freedom of thought that made such astonishing statements as: "He (the writer) must be free, like any other citizen for that matter, to tell the truth."

SACK STYLES TO SHINE IN SCHOOL

By EDWARD S. KITCH
CHICAGO (AP) — The fall school bell swings the sack and the trapeze fashion into the classroom.

Styles in children's wear are following the lead of grown-up fashions. No less an authority than Carl Bauer, president of the Children's Wear Association, predicts that the sack won't be sacked. Some children's wear manufacturers have gone as far as to show 75 to 80 per cent of their lines in these new fashions, he says. But he thinks the average will hit about 60 per cent between the chemise and trapeze with 40 per cent in what he terms conventional styling.

Plaids Are Important
In the style trend for tots, plaids are important. There are kilts. There are knits and knit trims. There also is a change in color with russet brown and gold tones important, together with blue greens, shades of Burgundy, royal blue and green.

So if Mother thinks she may escape the sack by waiting out the trend, she may have a long wait. "It boils down to this," Bauer says. "The new fashions are a must in the fall wardrobe of the children of America. This is tremendously exciting because for the first time in years there is something new and fresh."

But opinions pro and con still persist. One observer comments: On most tots, the chemise and trapeze look better than on Mother, who often resembles a flapper of the roaring Twenties.

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. reported today from London that Britain and the United States have agreed to propose a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the United Nations in New York possibly within a week.

ABC correspondent Yale Newmann said Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd would make the announcement before the House of Commons today.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Maithilda Burling, 78, founder and first president of the Gold Star Mothers of America, died Monday of heart trouble. Mrs. Burling lost a son in World War I. She founded the Gold Star Mothers for all mothers who had lost sons in the service. After World War II, she organized the Gold Star Mothers of World War II.

READING, Pa. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Clarence E. Keiser, 73, Lutheran churchman and authority on Semitic languages and Babylonian texts, died Monday after an illness of two months.
